Group to Ask Close Of 'City' Hearings

Protests Continue On 'City'

Formal protests continued to be sent this week to the County Board of Supervisors in Martinez, against proposed incorporation of Orinda. With the next supervisorial hearing session set for 9 a.m. next Thursday, controversy continued to mount.

Described by Horace Breed, one of its members, as "an informal organization of several hundred Orinda property owners," the Orinda Property Owners Group has sent to all local property owners, resident and non-resident, form cards for formal protests.

The law provides that if formal protests represent 51 per cent or more of the assessed land valuation, unimproved, in the area proposed for incorporation, the County Board of Supervisors cannot schedule an election on incorporation.

PUBLICITY RELEASES from the Orinda Property Owners Group have not named individual members, and Breed has stated the group does not have officers.

At a supervisorial hearing session October 31 Attorney Dana Murdock submitted a 12-page preliminary report for the group, prepared by the research firm of Hocking, Rimov, Raeburn and Associates, Oakland.

At that hearing Attorney T. H. DeLap identified Richard Breuner as a prominent member of the Orinda Property Owners Group. Breed and Clarence Betz have both stated that they are members of the group.

BREED SAID this week that a detailed report being prepared by the Raeburn firm is expected to be ready by the end of this week or sometime next week.

Betz announced that property owners who may have missed receiving protest form cards from the Orinda Property Owners Group can obtain such cards, issued by that group, at his office in the Dykes Building at 61 Moraga Highway.

In answer to criticisms against the protest campaign, Betz stated:

"In the event of an incorporation election, only the registered voters in Orinda may vote in such an election.

"THAT IS the democratic process, true; but, on the other hand, look at the possible results from the non-resident property owner's standpoint.

"If he were not allowed to protest or voice his opinion in this matter, then you would not be carrying out the democratic process as provided by law.

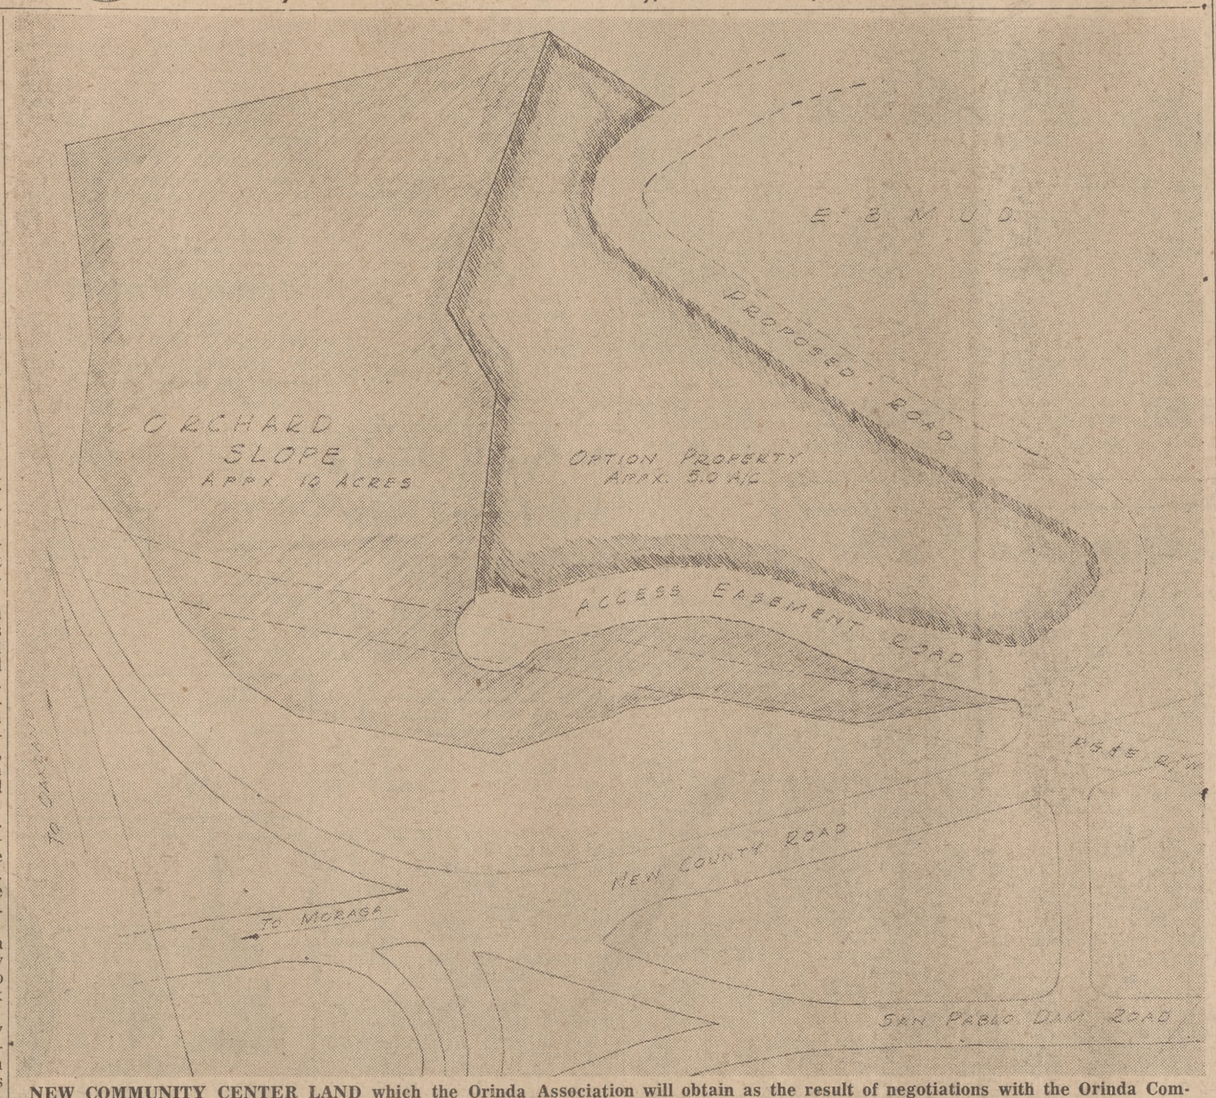
"The non-resident property owner should be allowed to express his opinion before any election is held."

Breed last week said that "there are a considerable number of home owners in Orinda who want to protest."

A PRESS RELEASE from the Orinda Property Owners Group, ascribed to no individual or firm, stated this week, in part:

"The position that this group has taken is that the incorporation of Orinda will result in an annual increase in each individual's tax bill by the imposing of city taxes over and above the present county taxes.

"What is more important, the group maintained, is that the proposed budget presented to the Board of Supervisors represents the income and expenditures for a one-year period and does not look beyond that period to determine the future needs of the proposed city which would have to be financed beyond the items provided for in the initial budget."



NEW COMMUNITY CENTER LAND which the Orinda Association will obtain as the result of negotiations with the Orinda Community Church is indicated by the 10-acre area on this sketch, which was prepared by Robert Walpole, chairman of the Orinda Association property committee. The name "Orchard Slope" was coined by Walpole because the sloping acreage has pear and apple trees on it. At its meeting Monday night the association board authorized its officers to sign the necessary papers to (1) sell 5½ acres of existing association property (the present Orinda Community Center land minus about 1½ acres reserved for a new Orinda Library site) to the Orinda Community Church for approximately $30,000, (2) buy the 10 acres of "Orchard Slope" land from the church with the $30,000 thus obtained and (3) have a 5-year period in which the association, through the church, may exercise an option to purchase from the East Bay Municipal Utility District an additional 5 acres adjacent to the "Orchard Slope" at a maximum cost of approximately $17,500 ($3500 an acre). The EBMUD board last Friday approved a resolution to sell the 10-acre "Orchard Slope" to the Community Church for approximately $30,000; this land is to be sold by the church to the association. The EBMUD resolution also specifies that the church will have a 5-year option to buy the adjacent 5 acres, and the church-EBMUD agreement states that this same option is being passed onto the association by the church. The option arrangement contains the prereuisite that if the association avails itself of the option, the buyer (the association) will pay EBMUD one-half the cost of development of a road fronting on the option property. If the option is not exercised, the church is obligated to develop to county standards an access easement road leading to the 10-acre "Orchard Slope," for dedication to the county (or city, if there will be a city of Orinda); in the agreement between the church and the association there is the provision that if the option is not exercised efforts will be made to reimburse the church for development of the access easement road. This easement road-area is in the option property. Both the road fronting the option property and the access easement road would each be about 600 feet long; the half-cost share of developing the frontage road would be about $10,000; the cost of developing the access easement road would be approximately $20,000.

Let's Decide At the Polls

AN EDITORIAL

Under our democratic form of government, the will of the majority rules.

What the majority of the people want is usually decided by an election. And this certainly should be applied to the question of whether or not Orinda wishes to incorporate. There are sincere, conscientious Orindans working for incorporation; there are sincere, conscientious Orindans opposing incorporation. There are perhaps thousands of others who at this itme are neither for nor against.

The ultimate decision should be made at the ballot box.

Prior to an election, it is healthy and necessary that proponents and opponents present their arguments. Each voter should carefully weigh those pros and cons and then vote intelligently.

This means that irresponsible and undocumented claims by either side should be questioned. Citizens should make up their minds only after the facts are carefully studied.

Incorporation of Orinda is an important issue. In past years, and at present, incorporation studies have been conducted. This is not a new issue. Orindans have enough facts to weigh the problem and then vote.

In recent years, other communities similar to Orinda (Saratoga, Kensington and Los Altos) have faced this problem and solved it at the polls. Some years ago Hillsborough and Atherton also held incorporation elections.

The columns of The Orinda Sun have been—and will continue to be—open to both sides. In addition, The Sun will continue to present its own editorial comment.

Let's study the facts and then vote.

Aim of Move: To Give County Time for Study

At next Thursday's Orinda incorporation hearing before the County Board of Supervisors in Martinez the Orinda Committee for Incorporation will ask the supervisors to close the protest hearings that day.

This was announced yesterday by the committee, following its meeting Tuesday night, at which decision to make this request was reached.

Next Thursday's hearing session will start at 9 a.m.

The committee has been striving to get the Board of Supervisors to schedule an election on incorporation in Orinda, following submission of petitions containing more than 3000 signatures. These petitions were declared qualified by the county clerk's office.

THE PETITIONS had been circulated under the auspices of the Orinda Association, after an incorporation study committee of the association, headed by Paul Pollaczek, had made an extensive report which declared that incorporation of Orinda is feasible and desirable. The Board of Supervisors will be asked to close the hearings next Thursday, according to Ernest Spiegl, chairman of the Orinda Committee for Incorporation, "in order to allow itself sufficient period for study and decision on exclusion requests before its jurisdiction expires on December 15."

"On such date," Spiegl continued, "the board should be able to set the date for election."

THE COMMITTEE'S decision followed discussion of the stepped-up opposition which has developed and which is continuing to urge property owners to send formal protests to the supervisors. The law provides that if the protests represent 51 percent or more of the assessed land valuation, unimproved, in the area proposed for incorporation, an election cannot be scheduled by the county.

Richard Bartle, another member of the Orinda Committee for Incorporation, said that last Tuesday night's meeting "was called specifically for the purpose of determining what measures, if any, were necessary to combat the erroneous and misleading information contained in the display advertising, direct mail campaigns and other paid propaganda presently indulged in by those who seek to prevent an election which has already qualified under existing law."

"At the conclusion of the meeting, the committee determined that no direct action was advisable at this time. This decision was based upon several distinct grounds.

"FIRST and foremost is the fact that the efforts to block election are being financed by interests with unlimited funds at their disposal, and with enough at stake to expend the same without stint. The committee felt that it was in no financial position to fight back along the same lines, and that what little capital it might be able to raise from the general public should be conserved to disseminate information when an election date has been set.

"Secondly, the committee felt that until the opponents of an election divulge their identities, it would refrain from engaging in a battle with unnamed persons who bill themselves under grandiose-sounding committee names, writers of 'Letters to the Editor' whose addresses appear in no Orinda telephone directory and purchased 'studies' proposed by 'experts' who appear in no business or professional directory.

"In this regard, the Committee on Incorporation felt that it could rely on the fact that it is composed entirely of Orinda residents, whose names have been divulged and have become public record.

"AFTER ANALYZING the claims made in their advertising, the committee came to the conclusion that the opponents have either done no research on the question of incorporation or are deliberately trying to confuse and mislead the public.

"Instead of attempting to refute each individual inference, the committee decided to rely upon the hope that the public will note the character of the claims made by the opponents and realize that not one single claim has been documented by fact. The Committee for Incorporation, on the other hand, published its studies in documented form, with facts, figures and analyses for all to read.

"The meeting concluded with the expressed hope that the people will consider the source of the opposition together with its probable motives, and will not be stampeded into unwise decision before an election date is set and a fairly conducted election campaign can be the vehicle of disseminating all the facts, both pro and con."

Association Election Will Follow Previous Procedure

The Board of Directors of the Orinda Association, meeting at Orinda School, agreed Monday night that the practice ever since the association was formed, of making paid-up membership for next year a prerequisite of being able to vote for next year's new directors, will be followed this year.

It was further agreed that if any corrective steps are necessary, in connection with the annual membership drive and annual election of directors, such steps will be taken next year.

Association Secretary Claire Ward pointed out that if study determines that corrective steps are called for, such steps might mean, after this year, a change in the time of the membership drive, clarification of the association by-laws, change in the by-laws or change in the time of the election.

THE DISCUSSION and decision Monday night were precipitated by a statement by Director Holland DuBois in which he interpreted the by-laws as allowing persons who have paid their 1957 dues (which were collected a year ago) to vote in the election for new association directors who will serve during 1958 and 1958.

According to the by-laws, the ballots are to be mailed the first week of December and are due to be returned by December 19.

The Civic Affairs Committee is scheduled to nominate candidates for six directorships next Monday night at its 8 o'clock meeting at Orinda School.

MRS. WARD, in charge of the membership drive, reported last Monday night that a telephone campaign is being started as a follow-up of the mailing of membership blanks and membership-drive appeals to some 3500 Orinda homes.

Directors whose two-year terms will expire the end of this year are Gene Estes, current president; Marvin Baker, treasurer; Bob Walpole, DuBois and Mrs. Ward. Five new directors are to be chosen to replace them, for two-year terms.

In addition, Mrs. Douglas Adie is moving out of the area, and so a new director will be elected to fill the unexpired year of her term.

ALL ASSOCIATION members (for 1958) will vote for all directorships to be filled, but the candidates must reside in association areas where vacancies occur.

Holdover directors whose terms will continue through 1959 are Fred Twining, Arthur Flint and Norman Cunningham.

As immediate past president, Estes will be a director-at-large next year.

US Supreme Court Agrees To Hear Commuter Case

Attorney Spurgeon Avakian notified the Contra Costa County Commuters Association Tuesday that he had just received word from Washington that the Supreme Court has agreed to review the appeal against Golden Gate Transit Lines.

The appeal was filed in July by Avakian representing the Contra Costa Commuters Association, Federation of Marin County Commuter Clubs, County of Contra Costa, and County of Marin.

The Interstate Commerce Commission had ruled in 1956 that Greyhound could set up a separate organization to be known as Golden Gate Transit Lines to take over some local operations and all commute operations of Greyhound in the Bay Area.

The commuters, with the aid of the counties, appealed to a special U. S. Court which early in 1957 ruled in favor of Greyhound. The commuters and counties then appealed to the Supreme Court. Today's notice is the first part of the awaited action.

Avakian had explained previously that the Supreme Court would issue a decision in October or November telling whether or not they would review the appeal. If not, that would be the end of the case and Greyhound would be the winner.

If decided to review, after such announcement a date for hearing would be set and both briefs and oral arguments prepared for presentation at that hearing.

The work will start on preparation of briefs and arguments. It is not yet known when the hearing will be held in 1958 in Washington.

It'll be Wetter

It was mighty wet in Orinda Wednesday evening and Thursday morning as .56 inches of rain fell and sent the total for the season up to 6.62 inches.

Don't worry though, there'll be more rain and more cold weather ahead, the weatherbird warned.

Gas Rate Increase Hearing for PG&E

The Public Utilities Commission will hold a public hearing on the application of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company to increase its rates approximately 15 cents a month per average customer.

The hearing will be Tuesday in San Francisco, according to the PUC.

THE REQUESTED uniform raise of $1.96 per thousand cubic feet wolud provide PG&E an estimated $9.3 million additional annual revenue.

The increase is being sought to offset higher charges of the El Paso Natural Gas Company, which provides 69 per cent of PG&E's supply, said a PG&E spokesman.

Any increase authoried by the PUC would be subject to refund if the federal power commission should disallow El Paso's new rate schedule which is due to go into effect January 1.

THE REQUEST has three principal features: First, as a result of the PUC September 24 interim decision, increases in rates have been proposed for all classes of customers instead of only for interruptibles (industrials) as PG&E had originally proposed.

Second, it asks for an increase to 6.8 per cent in the company's authorized rate of return from gas operations.

Third, it aims at simplifying PG&E rate schedules. The company pointed out that the greatly increased prices it must pay for gas, labor, materials and eqiupment necessitate the increased revenue it is requesting.

PG&E filed the application originally December 17, 1956, to restore the declining rate of return caused by the increased costs of doing business. It asked authorization to raise interruptible rates by an amount currently estimated at $17.6 million a year. The PUC interim decision allowed an estimated $5,670,000 and stated that interruptible customers should not bear all of the increases as was proposed by PG&E. With the rate of return now requested, $18.3 million would be added to the $5,670,000.

THE INTERIM RULING declared that PG&E is entitled to a "substantial increase" in revenues but withheld conclusion "as to the increases that should be placed on classes of service other than interruptibles." This resulted in PG&E revising its application to spread the remaining requested increases over all classes of customers.

Broadened application of rates likewise was proposed in the first amendment, filed October 19. This asked sufficient revenue to offset a $9.4 million increase in the cost of gas purchased from Texas and New Mexico. El Paso Natural Gas Company, which provides 69 per cent of PG&E's supply, has posted the increase, effective January 1.

The company's application shows that, at existing rates, the gas department now is earning less than 5 per cent.

PG&E has about 1.5 million gas customers.

Long String of Burglaries Solved

Sheriff's deputies ended the burglary career of a 19-year-old Alameda youth as he was being sentenced to six months in jail Tuesday for forgery.

Hans Peter Sorensen confessed to some 36 burglaries in Orinda and Lafayette while he was being sought in three states for jumping bail on forgery charges.

Sheriff Harry A. Brown said that Sorenson confessed to being responsible for the theft of approximately $30,000 in household goods and cash.

Only one item from his loot—a gun — has been recovered, said Brown.

Being sought by the sheriff's office are the persons who helped Sorenson get rid of the stolen goods.

Filling in the details of the month-long investigation, Inspector Norman Wilson of the sheriff's Lafayette substation said that the recovery of the gun in Woodland led officers to Sorensen.

The youth, according to Wilson, said that he operated in the Orinda-Lafayette area for six months entering homes in exclusive areas through unlocked front doors or open windows. In some instances, Wilson quotes Sorensen as saying he broke glass doors to reach inside and unlock them.

Sorensen, of 1643 Park St., Alameda, who lists his occupation as a mechanic and cannery worker, was arrested in Oakland April 2 when he tried to cash a $50 travelers check in a downtown store.

Another Suit Filed Over Oak Springs Subdivision

Trouble began brewing again over the Oak Springs Subdivision in Orinda as Nathan Grey, his wife, the F. F. Porter Company and four associates sued the state real estate commissioner seeking a court order doing away with an earlier decision which prohibits sale of 158 lots there.

The court action is the third filed as a result of a dispute involving Contra Costa County, the State and Gray's assoicates.

Presiding Judge Homer W. Patterson has issued an alternative writ of mandate directing Real Estate Commissioner F. W. Griesinger to either vacate his order prohibiting the lot sale or appear before Judge Hugh H. Donovan at 1:30 p.m. December 16 and show cause why he has not done so.

Contra Costa County sought an injunction against the lot owners on June 18 when the 30-year-old subdivision lots were offered for sale but dropped its suit when the state real estate commissioner entered the dispute in July. Gray sued the state agent in July but failed to prevent the public hearings that resulted in the commissioner's order, which the current action seeks to void.

Gray maintains the county has treated the lots as lawfully subdivided for more than 30 years prior to adoption of the current subdivision ordinance, provisions of which the lots violate.

In filing a petition for injunction against the state order Gray and the Porter Company contended that the subdivision maps for the lots were filed in 1924 and '26, long before zoning was established, and that prospective customers were accurately informed of the drawbacks of the lots.

The landowners contend that they cannot be made to confirm to subdivision ordinances now, because they were not the parties who originally subdivided the land headed by a now-defunct organization.

Gray asserts that he is selling the lots "as is with no representation whatever." He declares in his petition that the petitioners do not intend to furnish or defray the cost of furnishing installations for draining, water service, electric power, gas service, means for disposal of sewage, different or additional roads (from those shown on original maps) or improvements of existing roads.

The real estate commissioner alleged the sale would constitute misrepresentation, deceit or fraud against purchasers, the petition asserts.

The commissioner's findings, included with the petition, noted lots were substandard, no drainage was provided and that necessary streets were hazardous, subject to slides and impractical or impossible to build or excessive in construction or maintenance cost.

Mothers Club Will Hear Talk By Rev. Thomas

The Orinda Mothers Club will meet Tuesday morning at 9:30 at Glorietta School. The Rev. Carl Thomas of the Lafayette-Orinda Presbyterian Church is to be the speaker; his subject is "Growing Up."

His appearance on a panel last year was all too brief, according to club officers, and there have been many requests that he return.

Coffee will be served first, and the meeting will get under way promptly.

Rev. Thomas to Address Parents At Miramonte

Parents of Miramonte High School students will hear the Rev. Carl Thomas, pastor of the Lafayette-Orinda Presbyterian Church, on Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the meeting of the Miramonte Parents Club in the high school cafeteria.

An outstanding speaker, Mr. Thomas is well known to many in this area since his arrival in 1954 as the organizing pastor.

All parents will be particularly interested in attending this meeting, as the topic for Mr. Thomas' talk is one in which every parent is vitally concerned: "How to Live with Your Teenager."

'Harvest Moon' Dance Tomorrow

Full moons, scarecrows, antique buggies, and hay stacks—these are just a few of the props that will add to the authenticity of the Orinda Teenage Club's first dance of the school year tomorrow night.

Everybody loves the crisp autumn weather, the smell of burning leaves in the air, and very appropriately the club has chosen the name of "Harvest Moon" for its kickoff dance.

Committees are working. The dance will be held from 8 to 12 at the Pine Grove School auditorium in Orinda. The dress will be sport, and the price will be 50 cents, either stag or drag.

Being the first money-making project of the new year for the club, the proceeds will be used to build up its treasury. Later, the money will be used for ski trips and to defray the costs of many other excursions planned for the teenagers of Orinda.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

Flannel for fall, that's all!

One of our most decorous dolls, noted for her impeccable taste & fashionable dress, was caught short & a little out of costume the other morning.

SON WAS LATE FOR SCHOOL, so Lady popped her carcoat over a Mother Hubbard flannel gown and sped her tardy scholar to class. En route home, along Moraga Hwy, the car sputtered, choked and stopped. The gas guage was empty and so sat our fair one, FINALLY mustering enough courage on her sleepy unlipsticked face to sprint to the nearest house to borrow the phone.

If it makes her feel any better, the garage man never knew the diff and the sympathetic neighbor says "No one thought a thing of it! Flannel IS fashionable this fall and certainly her full-cut flowered flannel looked a mite better than some of those LATEST styles!"

EL NIDO on the Tunnel Strip was a lively place Saturday night.

The Marines had landed and taken over the Garden Room for a Birthday Ball in observance of the Corps' 179th Anniversary.

But in the main dining room, it was Orindan Dorothy Adie who had the situation well-in-hand once she recovered the initial shock that SHE was the MRS. X. in whose honor some 40 friends had made reservations for a farewell dinner. Dorothy, known to many as Lou, leaves today w/her young sons for Ohio.

'Please don't talk about me when I'm gone'

Wearing a saucy mink hat and beige cymbidium orchids on a suit blouse of champagne satin, (she had dressed presumably to dine at Trader Vic's w/Lois and Mike Dugener) the first thing she did was to call Doug, who is already East, and along w/friends who took their turn on the phone, share w/him her surprise and happiness.

MUSIC MAESTRO MAURICE Anger's dedication to Dorothy of the old tune "Please Don't Talk About Me When I'm Gone" drew applause and laughter from the group which incl. the Ritchie Wards, Doug and Dot Williams, Gene and June Estes, Jinny and Bill Brailsford, Don and Millie Williams, Ruth and Art Peterson and Betty and Norm Mann.

Also in the crowd gifting Dorothy w/a Waring Blender during the evening were Cliff and Lee Peterson, Kathy and Al Woods, Valerie Fardig and still MORE who'll be remembered w/every whir of the Waring were Marie and Frank Burnett, Marvin Bakers, Herb and Marge Ross of Lafayette and many others who signed the gift card but mainly for flubug reasons, were unable to attend.

The Adies will be missed, but promise to be back! Semper Fidelis Friends!

Jim and Lois Denning stopped to chat frequently w/Dorothy on their way to the dance floor, THEY table-hopping from the Marine's celebration and Jim standing OUT, even amongst the most dazzling dress blues, in tux resplendent w/matching plaid tie, pocket kerchief and cummberbund. The Dennings were guests of his brother Marine Lt. Col. Norman Denning of Danville and also in the Marine party, which took on the aspects of a handsome PORTRAIT OF THE MARINE CORPS (the men in THOSE blues, the women in full-length formals) were Lt. Col. John and Mrs. (Nora) Hampton of upper El Toyonal.

ANOTHER FOURSOME were holding an Army Reunion . . . these happy people being Cornelia and Chambers Adams of Loma Vista Drive who w/their houseguests from North Hollywood, Dr. John Ryan and his wife Pat, had dropped in for dancing following dinner at La Maisonette. The Dr. and UC French Professor Adams had been Air Force buddies together in England and continued their reminiscing around a fire and a pot of coffee after their return to the Adams' house long after midnight.

A SUNDAY NIGHT SPAGHETTI supper at the Monte Vista menage of Wishy and Budy Sage furnished still another farewell w/a pleasant FINIS to Moving Day for neighbors Helen and Glen Flummerfelt who are venturing to Berkeley, but only briefly, until their return to a new house here. Joining the group were Frank and Lola Tebbs of La Espiral, Tebbs is the new Manager of the VERY NEW Hayward Capwell's store, Sage the new Merchandise Mgr. of the SAME!

Bonnie and Charles Hill of Mariposa Lane, who have a little Miss Muffett in the house, expect a playmate for her in the spring.

Bingo, Bango, Bongo, it's so noisy in the Congo

When Marge and Bill Douglass issued invitations a while back they did it w/tongue-in-cheek and fine print bidding guests to "COME FOR COKES". So on Sunday last, it wasn't too surprising that more than several took the teaser seriously and arrived in their very best saddleshoes & sloppy joes. Which made the party all the more fun . . . the OTHER half dressed to the sheath in cocktail clothes.

WHO WAS THERE . . . Among the gay party-goers at the Douglass diggings on Bobolink Rd. were the Del Kays, Bill Seiferts, Jill and Bob Miller, Henrietta and John Den Dulk. Also on hand for turkey, pizza and potables were the Jay Meyers, Jean and Tom Culbertson, the hostess' sister and brother respectively, Jean Haaf and her husband Bob, and Hugh Rieger and his Marge, the latter recent parents for the third time.

HIGHPOINT OF THE party, the other side of a disc, discoverd to be one of those rare record finds, w/the beat of bongo drums & native chants sounding like all of Africa on the loose . . . which found Maudie Hammond and George Hauer teaming together on some intricate dance routines much to the delight and amusement of the crowd incl. the Stephen Shutts, Mimi and Pat Butler, Cay and Jack McLaren and Enid and Bill Diffenbaugh. Not to mention Pat Woodard, who was sporting her Stanford rooter's cap and finally confessed to One & All that some years ago HER Stanford paintbrush got out of hand on the Big "C" in the Berkeley hills. She thinks NOW it's safe to tell?

End of a long trip for two little boys

A LONG WAIT, but well worth it for Dave and Fran Wenrich of Altarinda who this Tuesday welcomed their new sons—twin boys, aged two, to be called Jimmie and Johnny, who came all the way from Greece to join the family at their home on St. Stephens Drive. Dave and Fran have two other children, Tommy, a kindergartener and Kathy, also aged two.

A THIRD TIME CHARMER, a boy again, for Noemi and Bill Leonard of Sleepy Hollow!

COME AS YOU LOOKED FIFTEEN years ago—this invitational teaser to friends & neighbors of the Stan Massies who celebrated their 15th wedding anniversary Friday night w/a party at their home in Lincoln Estates.

It was '42 — the days of the USO canteens and Praise The Lord & Pass The Ammunition! Stan was wearing his naval officers uniform, Babs her original wedding gown . . . Bruce Howard in Air Corbs garb, Jeanette as a member of the original wedding party, wore her bridesmaid gown. Stan's sister Eleanor and her hubby Ramsey Underwood over from Lafayette, the host's twin brother Harper Massie also on hand.

Letters to The Editor

INCORPORATION

Dear Editor:

The frenzied, high-pressure campaign against incorporation now underway requires that residents of Orinda not be stampeded into protest actions that are contrary to their best interests.

Briefly stated, incorporation of Orinda offers a means whereby local residents can control local problems. Incorporation is expressly designed as an efficient, economical and proven method of coping with such problems. Hundreds of communities throughout California have benefited by this system of local government.

Studies of the merits of incorporation for Orinda have been conducted for many years. The most recent study was conducted by a highly competent and impartial committee of the Orinda Association. A thorough, scholarly and practical report was prepared and published by this committee of our neighbors. The report leads to the conclusion that incorporation is a feasible, economical and desirable means of coping with pressing local problems.

ONE REAL ISSUE of the incorporation drive is the desire of most of us to maintain and enhance Orinda as a beautiful and desirable place to live. It is not happenstance that generally we now have such a community. It is due to the unselfish efforts of many of our residents over many years.

But the time has come when past methods are inadequate to solve present problems. We are now governed by a Board of Supervisors which is primarily concerned with ever-growing county-wide matters and which has little time to deal adequately with local matters which concern us greatly. As a fundamental matter of fact, they can hardly be expected to do so because we Orindans constitute such a small segment of the county population.

Moreover, not a single member of the Board of Supervisors is a resident of Orinda, and we have a voice in the selection of only one of the supervisors. The time has come for Orinda to handle its own problems such as zoning, restrictions, planning and police protection, through the logical device of incorporation. As a pertinent fact, Orinda is the fourth largest unincorporated community in the state.

RECENTLY we have been subjected to a barrage of propaganda sponsored by anonymous groups which call themselves "Citizens Committee for Better Government" and "Orinda Property Owners Group."

The principal argument advanced by these groups is that taxes will be greatly increased by incorporation. But these charges are completely unsubstantiated by any published factual supporting data.

The actual situation is that taxes are essentially independent of whether or not a community is incorporated. During the past three years taxes have increased over 40 percent for typical homeowners in Orinda. This has occurred in an unincorporated community.

Where were the tax alarmists hibernating in this period? Why do not these tax alarmists concern themselves with savings which could be realized by correcting inefficiencies in our county government? The answer is obvious: these alarmists are not really concerned about taxes on residential property. The issue of taxation, especially and particularly as it applies to taxes on residential property, is a smokescreen.

THE FUNDAMENTAL immediate issue before the residents of Orinda is whether or not they will have the opportunity to select the type of local government they want.

In an incorporation election, each resident is entitled to one vote and a majority of cast votes determines the issue.

In the current drive by the anti-incorporation groups, they are seeking to change the basis of voting power. Written protests against incorporation are weighted according to the value of unimproved property which is owned by the one who protests. For example, a non-resident owner of 10 lots would have 10 times the voting power of a resident owner of a single lot of proportional value, regardless of the fact that the single lot owner may own a home and live in the community.

Obviously, the current drive for protests is in effect a drive to prevent Orinda residents from determining the merits of incorporation for themselves. It is regrettable that the Board of Supervisors has complied with the demands of the proponents of disenfranchisement.

WHAT, THEN, is the real meaning of the battle on incorporation?

Briefly stated, a vote for incorporation is a vote to achieve a better community through control of local issues by local residents.

A vote against incorporation plays into the hands of those who regard Orinda solely or principally as a community to be exploited for personal profit or power and who are not primarily mindful of Orinda as a community in which to live.

New Guidance Group Will Pick Officers

The new Contra Costa County Secondary Guidance Association having guidance personnel and counselors of the county's high schools and junior college, will meet November 26 at 3:30 p.m at East Contra Costa Junior College to elect officers.

David Stewart, assistant director in the Office of Relations with Schools at the University of California, will discuss problems of high school students entering institutions of higher learning.

Educational developments in California and their affect on teachers and counselors will be discussed by William McCreary, chief of the Bureau of Guidance, State Department of Education.

Robert Lindsey of East Contra Costa Junior College will serve as moderator and program chairman.

A report by the nominating committee will be heard. Its members are Miss Evelyn Mumma, Mt. Diablo Unified, chairman; Mrs. Madalein Craig, Liberty Union High School; Robert Rowe, Miramonte High School; Miss Nancy Albright, Alhambra Union High School; and William Graves, Loma Vista Intermediate.

St. Paul's Women Will Name New Officer Slate

The Womans Auxiliary of St. Paul's Episcopal Church will hold its annual meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Chapel.

Mrs. Richard J. Spear, president, will present the annual report of the Auxiliary's activities during the past year, and the following chairmen of the seven member Guilds will present their reports:

Mrs. George E. Doty, Sts. Mary and Martha; Mrs. Harry E. Larson, St. Anne's; Mrs. T. E. Lee Jr., St. Jane Frances; Mrs. Gordon W. Repp, St. Clare's; Mrs. Robert B. Van Gelder, St Margaret's; Mrs. Fred E. Wilkins, St. Monica's; and Mrs. Robert G. McDavid, St. Cecilia's.

The nominating committee composed of Mrs William H. Platt, chairman, Mrs. Joseph F. Byrnes and Mrs. E. J. Molloy will then present its slate of officers for the next 18 months.

Anyone for Cats? Take A Look at These Items!

Everything from cats to cribs—from mattresses to motors—these items appear in the classified columns of The Sun one week and they're gone the next.

At least, that has been the experience of many satisfied Sun classified users—witness the results of M. J. Norton, 161 Elena Drive, Walnut Creek.

"Beautiful long haired kittens. Free to good homes." The ad ran for one week, appearing in The Sun Shopping News and the Walnut Creek, Lafayette, Orinda and Pleasant Hill Suns for just one price.

BUT IT DIDN'T really need to run in The Sun on Friday, because by 3 p.m. on Wednesday 10 telephone calls had been received and five kittens had found good homes.

Or consider the case of Mrs. J. H. Litton. She advertised a six year crib and mattress and immediately got 20 phone calls in response.

And no matter how the items vary, the response doesn't seem to. Not with Sun classified ads!

C. S. Richardson had two bicycles which needed a new home. Results? Just the same as before . . . 1 week in The Sun and the bicycles had found a new home . . . and at the price they were adviertised for.

And then there was Merritt Mann of Danville, who had a "beat up '51 Hillman convertible" for sale. It took a little more time to sell this car, but The Sun classified pages again came through, and most important, brought the price that Merritt Mann asked.

SO WHY DON'T you consider placing a Sun classified ad. Remember, Christmas is coming, and you can convert some of that used material around your house into holiday cash.

Classified ads in The Sun appear in five papers for one bargain price, and the results can't be beat. Try it and find out. Thousands of others have!

Women Voters Slate Confabs

The League of Women Voters will begin its local study item on city charter government versus general law government with unit meetings starting Tuesday, 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert Moore, 4 Van Cleave Lane, Walnut Creek.

Wednesday, 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Teddy Traylor, 3206 Stanley Court, Concord; Thursday, 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. William Ross, 161 Parkmead Court, Walnut Creek; and Thursday, 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert Karplus, 57 Overhill Road, Orinda.

California general law will be the subject of these unit meetings, with some comparison made with charter law. A general meeting is planned for December 4 at which Lenard Grote, political Science Instructor at East Contra Costa Junior College will speak on charter government and its merits.

NO DICE

It is against the law in California to hang souvenirs such as fuzzy dice, baby shoes or other objects from the rear-view mirror or top of the windshield of an automobile so as to impair the driver's clear view.

Here is Clarification Of the Union Situation

Recently Martinez Local 597, International Typographical Union place a four column by 10 inch ad in The Sun papers. The advertisement was prepared and paid for by this printers union. It was carried in the November 1 issues of the Walnut Creek Sun, Pleasant Hill Sun, Lafayette Sun and Orinda Sun and the November 6 edition of the Sun Shopping News.

As a paid advertisement, the views expressed were solely those of the International Typographical Union and not those of The Sun papers. The Sun publishes thousands upon thousands of inches of paids ads each year. Some ads are in favor of a certain subject, while other ads, perhaps in the same edition, oppose this view. Advertising does not represent the editorial policy of a newspaper.

Following publication of this ad, a representative of the Contra Costa Printing Pressman and Assistants Union No. 432 asked. The Sun if it would accept ads from them. The answer, of course, was yes. The pressman's union has been running ads in other local papers.

The ITU ad in The Sun attacked the Contra Costa Times and Walnut Kernel for signing contracts with the pressman's union. This is, however, a jurisdictional controversy between the two unions.

Newspapers throughout the county (including the Sun, Kernel and Times) negotiated for months with the ITU and later discussed contracts with the pressman's union. Meanwhile, a strike was called by the ITU. The Sun signed a contract with the ITU. The Times and Kernel signed contracts with the Pressman's Union. Both are recognized unions.

The ITU's ad stated, "They (Times and Kernel) are unfair to organized labor in refusing to negotiate with Local 597 of International Typographical Union AFL-CIO."

The Sun wishes to state that the Times and the Kernel did negotiate with the ITU.

The ITU ad also stated, "Help the Martinez Typographical Union stop the policy of wage cutting."

And in another section, the ad said, "Never in its 50 year history has this union adopted a policy of wage cutting, but these two papers found it advantageous to sign with a union willing to settle for less."

The Sun does not know the final terms of the contracts signed by the Times and Kernel. Thus, The Sun cannot assume that a policy of wage cutting is involved.

This clarification expresses the views of only The Sun newspapers — and not of the ITU.

Acalanes District Observes National Education Week

The Acalanes High School District observed National Education Week this week by marking nearly an 800 per cent growth—from 404 to 3150 students—since the district's inception in 1940.

Today a faculty of 155 conducts an educational program in three high schools: Miramonte, Orinda; Acalanes, Lafayette; and Las Lomas, Walnut Creek. A fourth high school site has been purchased in Tice Valley with its school to open in the Fall of 1959.

Five million dollars in community investment is represented in high school property and physical plants, with the investment increasing annually as enrollment continues to grow at a rate of about twenty per cent per year.

A recent Stanford Educational consultant's survey predicates that Acalanes District enrollment will reach 9600 sometime after 1970 when the Acalanes area reaches "saturation" development according to existing zoning laws.

To build classrooms to house mushrooming student enrollments, trustees report that the high school district has followed a policy of building with funds raised by bonds. "Bonding means that the burden of paying for facilities is shared by those who live in the community now and those who will live here later and use the facilities that are being built."

"Since bonds alone couldn't meet building requirements set by enrollment growth, about 30 cents of the current tax rate is being used for construction," trustees stated.

The present district tax rate for operations is $1.75 per hundred dollars assessed valuation. The rate breaks down to $1.45 for operational expenses and 30 cents for building fund. In addition 39 cents above the base $1.75 goes to building bond retirement and five cents to retirement of a State loan raised to pay for the fourth school site being bought in Tice Valley.

As an illustration of what this means to the average home owning taxpayer, Trustees point out that a $20,000 home, at current market value, on the basis of its assessment and the district tax rate, will pay approximately $96 per year for the high school district.

Braumoeller Plea Scheduled Today In Superior Court

Ludwig (Fred) Braumoeller, top ranking state narcotics officer will make his plea of guilty or not guilty on charges of supplying heroin to a dope addict today in the Superior Court of Judge George Harris in San Francisco.

Braumoeller, 38, of 56 Claremont Drive, Orinda, a top-ranking agent for the past 12 years, was indicted by the Federal Grand Jury in San Francisco on four counts of selling heroin to an Oakland addict.

Marked evidence, a portable TV set, an expensive sports coat with which federal authorities hope to convict suspended state narcotics agent Braumoeller were believed to be the items which brought about the federal grand jury indictment.

U. S. ATTORNEY Lloyd Burke in San Francisco said that U. S. agents recovered the articles which Braumoeller assertedly accepted from a known drug addict and "stool pigeon" in exchange for heroin.

Burke announced that the articles were recovered through a young narcotics offender whom Braumoeller befriended when he was convicted of selling marijuana in 1955.

Burke said the new witness confessed that he took the articles from Braumoeller's home after getting a phone call from the state agent.

BURKE insisted that the evidence "just about wraps up the case."

Walter Creighton, chief of the Bay Area office of the State Narcotics Bureau, who has staunchly defended Braumoeller, said he had "new information" which came to him from an independent source which caused him "to alter opinions."

ATTORNEY GENERAL Edmupnd G. Pat Brown placed a gag on all state narcotics officers against making further statements about the Braumoeller case under the threat of disciplinary action.

Brown said that there will be changes in procedures in the State Narcotics Bureau dealing with the handling of confiscated narcotics and the availability of the drugs to agents.

HIGHWAY STOPPING

When you stop your car on the highway, it's important that you pull completely off the roadway. Cars traveling at high rates of speed often are unable to stop for an unexpected vehicle parked on the highway. Don't take chances when you have to stop, pull off the roadway.

Sheriff Blames Supervisors In Answer to Area Charges

"This county is woefully short of patrol deputies and needs additional personnel in the Main Jail, Criminal Division and Juvenile Control Bureau," Harry A. Brown, Contra Costa Sheriff, wrote to the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors.

Answering charges made by the Veterans of El Sobrante and the El Sobrante Improvement Association to Supervisor Ivan Goyak several weeks ago that the community was not getting adequate police protection, Brown placed the blame on the shoulders of the supervisors in ignoring requests for additional manpower for the sheriff's office.

"BECAUSE I have been absent from my office for an extended period due to a serious and recurrent illness I was not aware of the extended juvenile lawlessness taking place in the El Sobrante area and I was astounded to read that statements had been attributed to Supervisor Goyak through newspaper accounts, that the sheriff had not made any requests for additional manpower," said the sheriff in a letter sent to the El Sobrante groups and the press.

Brown said he had not appeared before the board in person to make additional requests but had gone through regular channels on two occasions.

Brown said he is able to man four two-man patrol cars in the entire county during two patrol periods from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. daily and that an area of 60,000 residents is served by only one car during this period.

THE SHERIFF said there has been no decrease in the police service in El Sobrante, which is served by the Richmond substation, manned by an inspector, a sergeant and 11 deputies, largest substation staff in the county.

"I have tried consistently to acquire enough manpower to furnish you and the entire unincorporated area the police protection to which you are entitled and which you greatly need," Brown said. "However, I have been blocked at every turn.

"Therefore, I wish to congratulate your group for taking the initiative in bringing the lack of top police protection to light and encourage all groups throughout the county with similar problems to communicate with their supervisors."

BROWN INCLUDED with his letters a tabulation showing that Santa Clara County, which he declared was of "similar size" and had "similar problems" as Contra Costa County had a 177-member sheriff's department as compared with 114 in Brown's department.

He added that 38 of his 114 deputies were assigned to patrol duties and six men comprised his criminal division.

African Hunt Is Film Topic Tuesday Night

Murl Deusing, Milwaukee Public Museum curator of education, will be an Audubon Screen Tour lecturer at East Contra Costa Junior College Tuesday at 8 p.m.

The program will be held in the new student activities building rather than in Building 12 for this particular program. It is open to the public free of charge.

Deusing will show his sound film "Adventure in Africa," an account of a 10,000-mile safari to record the mass migration of thousands of wild animals and birds in a race for survival across the Seregeti Plain.

There are tense episodes of the hunting teamwork of lions, the courtship dances of the crowned crane and sequences of elephant, hippopotamus, rhinoceros, and giraffe wild life.

Lecture Will Be Presented At St. Mary's

Decoding tactics borrowed from World War II intelligence sources enabled the cracking of the baffling "Linear B" script of ancient Greece by a young Englishman in 1952.

In a public service lecture at St. Mary's College Wednesday, Denys Page, Regis professor of Greek at Cambridge University, England, and Sather lecturer this year at the University of California will explain how new knowledge of our classical heritage came to light from his discovery.

The young man in question was Michael Ventris, an architect, who put his wartime deciphering training to work on the Pylos tablets, a script from before the time of the Trojan war.

State Health Fund Warning Issued To CC Supervisors

Contra Costa County is spending state fund allocated under the new indigent medical care program three times faster than had been anticipated, according to county medical director, Dr. George Dengman.

Dengman informed the county board of supervisors that similar services could be provided by the county hospital for about one-third of the cost.

DR. DENGMAN challenged the entire medical care program as it is being administered by the state. "We are not improving care to indigents, we are only tripling expenses," he said.

He warned the board that legislation is pending which would extend the State medical care bill to include private hospitalization of the patient's choice.

At present, the state bill allows indigent patients to select a doctor of their own choice and the cost of drugs, X-ray and laboratory expenses are in addition to this.

"The bill pending in legislature would add a heavy burden to state taxpayers," said Dengnan.

According to the Contra Costa Welfare Department, the State's first quarter allocation to the county for the new program is $167,902, of which the State withholds 10 per cent as a contingency fee.

IN OCTOBER, the first month the new program has been in operation, the Welfare Department said, the county handled a total of 6,644 cases. This included 10,313 individuals.

The Welfare Department said they could make no estimate at this early date of what the program is actually costing them. The Welfare Department administers the new medical program.

Dr. Degnan charged, however, that the California Physicians Service — the organization which handles the billing to the county under the new program—is going to have to double the premiums to maintain the service.

THE NEW statewide program —operated by the State Welfare Department—is backed by a $29,000,000 fund provided equally by the State and Federal Government.

County Government, under the new program, pays only partial administrative expenses under the plan.

Doyle Praises Knight Decision

Assemblyman Donald D. Doyle of the 10th District wired his congratulations to Governor Goodwin J. Knight in New York on his decision to be a candidate for the United States Senate.

In part Doyle wired:

"Knowing your keen personal desire to continue your capable State administration for another four years and your sincere conviction that despite recent developments you could win reelection, I am well aware that your decision was a tremendous personal sacrifice made in the interest of long range Republican Party harmony.

"As the 1958 campaigns develop your decision will be applauded by all Californians.

"By your action of yesterday you have proven that your early statements regarding the imperative necessity of Republican Party harmony in California were not empty political phrases, but an expression of sincere personal conviction," said Doyle.

Transit Council Continues Legal Action Vs. District

Another legal step was taken by the Contra Costa Transit Council in its fight against the Contra Costa Alameda Transit District in Martinez last Friday.

In the name of the State of California and a group of taxpayers, the Transit Council filed an amended complaint to its original suit filed in May of this year asking for the removal of the unincorporated areas of Contra Costa and the cities of Richmond and San Pablo from the two-county district.

THE ORIGINAL complaint asked that the creation of the district at the general election last November 6 be declared void.

The amended complaints includes 21 areas, 19 unincorporated and two cities be excluded.

The suit complains that when votes were counted in the 19 unincorporated parcels, their votes were lumped together as one parcel. In addition, according to the suit, absentee ballots in Richmond and San Pablo were improperly counted because they were lumped together and tallied with those from other areas in the 11th Assembly District.

The suit asks that the court halt the district's directors from taking any further action pertaining to the areas mentioned in the suit. It further asks that the action taken by the Alameda County Board of Supervisors in canvassing the ballots be declared void.

ATTORNEY GENERAL Edmund G. (Pat) Brown ruled last summer that the district on a whole was legal, but, that the district's opponents could continue to seek exclusion of certain areas, now considered to be in the district, through the courts.

Meanwhile, Harry A. Morrison, secretary treasurer of the Contra Costa Transit Council, lashed out at the transit district with statements that the transit district is setting up "study groups" to counter the efforts of the council.

Morrison stated that he attended a meeting at the home of Robert Guichard in Lafayette November 5 and termed it a semi-secret affair, although notice of the meeting was made in several area newspapers.

"Contra Costa was deceived into thinking the two county district was part of the five county Bay Area Rapid Transit District," said Morrison.

Morrison is a member of the rapid transit commission from Contra Costa County.

"THE TWO county district is actually a scheme to buy out the Key System and to benefit Oakland mercahnts," he continued.

He charged that district proponents have concealed the fact that the district's directors are enabled by law to levy a five cent tax rate on the two county's $2 billion assessed valuation—giving the district an income of $1 million per year.

Bunce Goes To Prison

John H. Bunce, 34-year-old Orinda stock swindler, was delivered to state prison last Friday to begin serving his two to 15 year term for fleecing scores of residents of more than a half million dollars.

Bunce pleaded guilty on two counts of grand theft and violation of the State Corporate Securities Act.

Meanwhile, the young secretary credited by Oakland police with aiding them in bringing swindler Bunce to justice pleaded not guilty to malicious mischief charges brought by the president of Bunce's firm.

Municipal Judge Edward J. Smith set November 21 as the date for the jury trial of Gail Harrison, 19, 1015 Mountain View Ave., Walnut Creek. She was released last Friday on $200 bail.

The complaint was signed by Thomas F. J. Carroll Jr., of Lafayette, president of the Pacific States Securities Corporation, of which Bunce was vice-president.

Carroll accused Miss Harrison of breaking and entering the firm's office at 405 14th Street October 18 to remove records.

Oakland Police Inspector Lester King said Miss Harrison, employed by Bunce from February until his September arrest, admitted smashing the glass door and taking a number of records and burning them when she noted they had nothing to do with the stock swindle.

King said Miss Harrison substantially aided the police in decoding the records which led to Bunce's pleading guilty.

Realtor Sales 'Good' in October

Sales during October by members of the Contra Costa County Real Estate Board multiple listing service totaled $1,305,870.

This is about $100,000 higher than October, last year. There were 82 sales, out of 211 total listings.

Sixty per cent of the sales were "cooperative."

Reservations are being taken for the inaugural meeting of the California Real Estate Association directors. It will be held at the Lafayette Hotel in Long Beach.

Results of Flouridation To be Checked

More than 1500 Antioch children in the kindergarten through third grades will receive dental inspections to test the effectiveness of five years of fluoridation of the Antioch water supply, it was announced by Dr. Zachary M. Stadt, Assistant Health Officer in charge of the County Health Department's Division of Dental Health.

Few, if any, of the children will show the maximum benefits of fluoridation, according to Dr. Stadt, because fluoridation has been in progress at Antioch for only five years.

Significant benefits, ranging as high as 75 percent less dental decay for the six-year-olds have been reported from Grand Rapids, Michigan; Brantford and Ontario, Canada; Newburgh, New York; Evanston, Illinois; Sheboygan, Wisconsin, and other places where fluoridation has been in progress since before their birth, he said.

Three Men Hurt In Head-on Crash

Three persons were injured and commuter traffic was tied up for two miles by a spectacular head-on collision one mile west of the Broadway Tunnel.

According to Officer Gerald Phillips the accident occurred when an Oakland bound car driven by Winsten Lewis, of Oakland, went over the double line and hit an east bound auto driven by Allen L. Johnson of 143 Siesta Circle, Orinda.

A car driven by Daryl Moffitt of 1698 Merian Drive, Pleasant Hill, then hit Johnson's car, said the officer.

Lewis, Johnson and Moffitt were all treated for cuts and bruises. Lewis suffered a broken leg and Johnson incurred serious cuts.

New Leaders Will Be Honored Monday Evening

During the past few weeks the three major commands in the area have received new commanding officers. They are the 12th Naval District, the Sixth Army (Presidio of S.F.) and the Fourth Air Force (Hamilton Field).

In observance of this unusual triple change of command, the northern California Chapters of the Reserve Officers Association of the United States are holding an informal reception and dinner honoring the new commanding general, Sixth Army, Lt. General Lemuel Mathewson, U.S.A.; the new commandant, 12th Naval District, Rear Admiral George L. Russell, U.S.N., and the new commanding general, Fourth Air Force, Maj. Gen. Sory Smith, U.S.A.F, and their wives.

The affair, open to all officers and their wives, will be held at the Treasure Island Officers' Club on Monday at 7 p.m.

A Lafayette officer is serving as general reception chairman for the occasion. Reservations may be made with him. He is LCDR George L. Stanton, U.S.N.R., 3919 South Peardale Drive.

County Excluded from $12 Million Transit Plan - But Pays

The directors of the Alameda Contra Costa Transit District have been urged to adopt a $12.8 million preliminary plan to put rubber tired trains on the Bay Bridge by DeLeuw Cather Company, engineers.

The engineering firm was hired several months ago by the transit district to determine how the existing facilities now operated by Key System can be best utilized until such time as long range transit facilities coordinated with those of Bay Area Rapid Transit Commission can be planned and established.

THE REPORT and its four recommendations, one of which was urged for adoption were discussed last night by the directors of the transit district at the districts headquarters in the Claremont Hotel as The Sun went to press.

The report was issued last Friday to the directors and to area newspapers.

THERE IS no mention in the preliminary report of the engineering firm of any extended service of Key System lines into Contra Costa County should the district decide to buy out the East Bay transit company.

The matter of street reconstruction in downtown Oakland is not mentioned in the report.

Reconstruction of Oakland streets and train tracks which are in poor condition has been estimated by state engineers as well over $6 million whereas removal of the tracks would cost approximately $465,000.

SHOULD THE transit district decide to buy out Key, the district would become heir apparent to these street repair bills.

The Contra Costa Transit council has charged that Contra Costa taxes will be collected to pay off Oakland street repair bills.

There is one mention in the report of the current legislation which will premit reconstruction of the Bay Bridge to increase its vehicular capacity by 35 per cent but, how this would effect the proposed plan 2, or any plan for that matter, is ignored by the report.

Another point which is omitted in the report is how to combat the traffic congestion problem occuring daily on the bridge.

CHARLES E. DELEUW pointed out that the report is a preliminary effort by the company and that the final report would be submitted by the end of this month.

"This is our initial report containing a summary of circumstances adequate to support a recommendation as to whether or not rail facilities, or any part of the system now operated by the Key System, should be acquired by the transit district," said DeLeuw.

Whether the final report of the engineering firm and its recommendations would be accepted by the directors of the transit district as the basis for a bond election aimed at the purchase of the present Key System was not learned by The Sun.

The four basic recommendations as presented by the engineering firm are:

PLAN 1. The establishment of a rubber-to-rail transfer station in a location on the Key System Mole, adjacent to the Bay Bridge toll plaza, and the operation of rapid transit rail shuttle service to the existing San Francisco terminal with existing car equipment;

PLAN 2. Similar in all respects to Plan 1 except for the purchase and operation of 29 modern articulated pneumatic-tired rapid transit units;

PLAN 3. The operation of an all-bus system between present termini in the Alameda-Contra-Costa Transit District and the San PLAN 4. Continued rail operation on the A and F lines between their present termini in Berkeley and Oakland and the San Francisco terminal and the conversion of he B, C and E lines to bus operation.

"Our surveys covering the condition and the estimated cost of rehibilitating the tracks, signal equipment and rolling stock has been completed, together with survey of existing bridge transit terminal facilities in San Francisco and the East Bay area. Our studies have been carried on with a view to presenting a realistic and accurate comparison of the relative advantages and disadvantages of these four plans.

"For instance, we have assumed in all plans that none of the existing obsolete and overage bus equipment owned by the Key System Transit Lines and the Greyhound Lines would be utilized in the operation and that new sufficient 51-passenger diesel buses would be purchased to supplement the useful buses now available to supply the bus fleet required for each operation.

"Depreciation allowances have been estimated on the same basis for all plans and estimates of annual operating expenses have also had a common basis, states the report.

THE CAPITAL outlay required for plan 1 would total $6,455,000. Estimated revenues would cover all operating expenses, depreciation on equipment, and leave available a net income of $1,287,000 which would exceed amortization charges on initial financing by a comfortable margin under the present fare schedule.

This plan would provide some measure of improved convenience as compared with present operation. The long headways on the five rail lines would be reduced to two to seven minutes by substitution of feeder buses on these lines. All operation of trains over public streets would be eliminated.

"This plan, based on the continued operation of obsolete car equipment, should be considered as an initial step in the accomplishment of Plan 2 and should be adopted only in the event that the additional financing involved in Plan 2 is impossible during the interim period, the report notes.

"Plan 1 has the advantage of conforming to the logical development of area-wide transit which many be developed by the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit Commission. Such future development would undoubtedly encompass rail rapid transit extensions from the existing San Francisco terminal to and thru downtown San Francisco and to the important centers in the District.

"Any plan which fails to preserve these valuable rail facilities will, in our opinion, require the expenditure of many millions of dollars for the trans-bay tunnel essential to the development of any rapid transit to serve the metropolitan area. We, therefore, recommend the serious consideration of Plan 1 in the event that financing of Plan 2 is found to be impractical at this time," the DeLiew Cather report continues.

CAPITAL OUTLAY required for plan 2 would total $12,800,000. The company estimates that revenues based on the present fare schedule would cover all operating expenses, depreciation on equipment, and leave available operating income of $1,610,000, which is $420,000 greater than Plan 3—the all-bus alternate.

This plan is considered to provide the greatest measure of improved convenience over the present operation of any of the plans considered.

"The frequency of service would be improved as in the case of Plan 1. This plan would eliminate operation of all rapid transit trains over public streets. There would be a marked improvement in the speed of the service for all passengers now carried on the rail lines. This would amount to a savings in travel time of 14 minutes per day for this important group. The net saving in travel time for all of the trans-bay passengers would amount to more than 1 million hours per annum," the report claims.

PLAN 2 conforms to any logical development of area-wide transit which many ultimately be constructed by the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit Commission. Such a plan, in our opinion, would undoubtedly include rail rapid transit extensions into San Francisco and from the mole terminal to important centers in theAlameda-Contra Costa Transit District. The preservation of the existing valuable rail facilities is essential to economical development of area-wde rapid transit.

"The improved service which would be provided by the ultra modern pneumatic-tired rapid transit cars recommended would attract additional passenger traffic to the operation during the initial year. This could be expected to increase thereafter so as to reverse the present trend away from mass transit and to the use of automobiles of trans-bay travel, the report continues.

The capital outlay required for plan 3 is a total of $6,050,000. The estimated revenues would cover all operating expenses, depreciation of equipment and leave a net income of $1,190,000, a somewhat lower figure than in the case of Plans 1 and 2.

The frequency of service would be maintained on the nine existing trans-bay bus lines, but there would be reductions in headway compared with the existing rail lines.

PLAN 3 is considered by the Firm as a temporary expedient. Existing Bay Bridge rapid transit tracks would be scrapped and, until such time as metropolitan area-wide rapid transit is constructed, trans-bay passengers would be forced to rely on automobiles and buses.

"It is impossible for us to visualize a metropolitan area of seven million or more people (as estimated for the San Francisco area in 30 years) with fairly even distribution of population on each side of a water barrier such as the San Francisco Bay, without rapid rail transit connections. It is our view that the removal of the rails from the Bay Bridge would add many million dollars to the cost of such necessary new transit facilities. We, therefore, recommend against the all-bus Plan 3," the report recommends.

Capital outlay for plan 4, including the rehabilitation of the tracks and pavement on Routes A and F, would total $6,530,000. Estimated revenues would cover all operating expenses, depreciation on equipment and leave an annual operating income of $770,000.

"This plan would provide but little improved convenience to the public. Also, the rapid transit streets would be eliminated except for those along routes A and F. (Oakland and Berkeley)

"Probably the greatest argument for this plan is the maintenance of through operations between the center of Oakland and Berkeley and downtown San Francisco together with the preservation of the tracks over the Bay Bridge.

Plan 4 can be placed in operation with the smallest capital outlay but, on the other hand, provides smaller returns than any of the other plans considered. Plan 4, however, lacks many of the advantages of Plan 2 and we, therefore, do not recommend its further consideration," states the report.

"THE INITIAL investment, the estimated operating results and the several other pertinent factors have been considered for each plan. With the single exception of the greater initial investment involved, Plan 2 has more advantages than any of the other schemes.

"Plan 2 has a further advantage,, the preservation of an essential rail rapid transit link across the San Francisco Bay.

"Failure to adopt this plan would necessitate the construction of a bridge over San Francisco Bay to serve the same function. Such construction was estimated at upwards of $70 million two years ago. The imposition on the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit Commission of this unnecessary financial burden would constitute a serious problem in the development of area-wide rapid transit.

"It could conceivably postpone the start of construction of much needed works for years. Finally, convenient rapid transit service afforded by Plan 2 will reverse the trend of increasing automobile travel across the Bay Bridge, alleviate the present peak hour congestion and, in our judgment, postpone for a number of years the need for the construction of a second highway bridge across San Francisco Bay. For these reasons we recommend the adoption of Plan 2," it concludes.

County Gets $320,316 from Federal, State Government

Apportionment of $15,581,474 in State and Federal funds to California counties for construction on county roads on the Federal Aid Secondary System was announced today by the State Department of Public Works.

The allocation for the 1958-59 fiscal year, a record high, includes $9,615,571 from the Federal government and $5,965,903 in State Highway matching funds. The 1957-58 apportionment was $8,916,082 Federal and $5,659,303 State funds, for a total of $14,575,385.

CONTRA COSTA County's share for 1958-59 amounts to $320,316, of which $186,867 is in Federal money and $133,440 from the State Highway budget.

The Federal funds are apportioned to the various counties according to the formula used by the Federal government in distributing Federal Aid Secondary funds to the states—one-third on the basis of area, one-third on rural population and one-third on mileage of certain classes of rural mail routes.

The money from State sources is for the use of the counties in matching the Federal funds on the basis of approximately 58 percent Federal to 42 per cent local funds. According to State law, $200,000 is the maximum amount which may be made available to a county in a single year for use in matching its Federal allocation.

COUNTY ROADS on which Federal Aid Secondary funds may be spent are those roads which have been designated by the county, with the approval of the California Highway Commission and the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, as constituting the county's Federal Aid Secondary system.

For the most part, these roads are next in importance to State highways in terms of traffic volume and economic service to the locality, and are often referred to as "feeder roads" or "farm to market roads."

Two laws governing the distribution of Federal Aid Secondary and State matching funds were enacted by the 1957 Legislature. These statutes were first applied in connection with the 1957-58 apportionment, and both have meant increased funds for county roads and a corresponding decrease in the amount available for State highway purposes.

ONE OF THE new laws raised from 87½ percent to 98½ percent the proportion of the Federal money which must be made available for expenditure on county Federal Aid Secondary roads. The remaining 1½ percent is required by Federal law to be expended for long-range planning purposes under the direction of the Division of Highways. Under previous law, the State used 11 percent of the Federal grant to improve State highways included in the Federal Aid Secondary.

The other legislative change increased to $200,000 a year the maximum amount from State highway funds which may be provided to any one county for use in matching its Federal allocation. The previous maximum was $100,000.

C of C Board Will Be Named On Wednesday

Ballots for 1958 directorships of the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce will be counted at a general luncheon meeting of the chamber at noon Wednesday at El Nido.

This was announced yesterday by Chuck Johnston, chamber secretary-manager. "The meeting will be held for the purpose of counting the votes," he said.

During the luncheon meeting a group will be appointed by President Earle Pierce to leave the room and count the ballots. Five new directors will be selected for two year terms, from among eight candidates: Ted Stein, Cliff Silvan, Bert Leavitt, Jim Cunningham, Marvin Turner, Ron Phipps, Harold Levy and George Walker.

The five newly elected directors and the carryover directors, whose terms will continue through 1958, will meet within a week following their election to elect chamber officers for 1958.

An installation dinner will be held in January, Johnston said.

Elks Launch New Blood Program With Kaiser

The new-style blood program initiated by the Walnut Creek Elks Lodge in cooperation with the Kaiser Hospital has made fresh donor blood of all types quickly available to doctors in an emergency.

And since the blood is provided on an exchange basis, the Elks and their families are also served by "credits" accumulated at the hospital, by which an Elk or his relation may receive needed blood without worrying about arranging to pay back two pints for one.

Stan Schaffer, Elks member who is conducting the program, said that a blood typing party and dance wil be held at the Elks Lodge on South Main tomorrow night, and others will be held later.

WIVES OF ELKS will also be "tagged," if they wish, and may be listed as donors.

Schaffer said, "By this method, the hospital doesn't have to store the blood as was done under the system we formerly had.

"Then, they would store it for a couple of weeks or more, but later had to convert it into plasma."

"Now, when blood is needed by the hospital, they need only call. I can find the member with the right type blood, and usually in a short time can send him to the hospital.

"ANOTHER FEATURE is that if an Elk member is in another hospital and needs blood, he can get blood on an exchange basis, arranged between that hospital and Kaiser.

"And the exchange basis is one-for-one, rather than two for each pint received."

Schaffer said that the National Elks magazine had written a story on their system which received favorable comment.

The local Elks lodge has about 650 members.

Area Hospital May Locate in Ygnacio Valley

Area doctors have become optimistic in recent weeks over possible financing of a $750,000 hospital, and are looking over three sites in the Ygnacio Valley area, Dr. Harold Robinson, a spokesman, said today.

He said that the choice of a site containing 5 or more acres may be accomplished in December.

Before that, area physicians will be invited to a meeting, where several new approaches to long-range financing will be discussed.

"As the financing, there are three or four methods, and all are feasable, we think. However, we must still have to get a little more expert advice," Robinson said.

"ONE OF THE things we need to know more about are anticipated earnings of a private, nonprofit hospital, and how soon it can begin paying for itself.

Robinson said that the hospital will be designed to serve Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill, Alamo, and Danville.

If all goes well, the plant may be expanded from 50 beds to twice that number.

The three prospective sites are within the Walnut Creek city limits. Attorney for the doctors is John Nejedly, who is the Walnut Creek city attorney.

A TENTATIVE name for the structure is the Diablo Community Hospital, but doctors have expressed dissatisfaction with it, and the name may be changed.

Recent discussions have been assisted by Doctors Irving Fine, Kenneth Caldwell, Marvin Epstein and John Hutch and Robinson.

Considerable help has also come from Doctors Joseph Murphy, Ralph Bigger and Fred Hansen.

For several months, the prospect for obtaining money to build the hospital had been dimming, despite the urgent need for such a facility in the area.

The doctors talked with members of the Walnut Creek city council, but no immediate solution was reached. However sites were reviewed.

The doctors also have consulted architects, and have considered alternative designs for the hospital.

Elks' Blood Typing is Tomorrow

A second "Blood Typing Night" will be held by the Walnut Creek Elks at their lodge building on South Main street tomorrow evening, Chairman Stan Schaeffer announced today.

An effort is being made by the local organization to catalogue blood types of all members and their wives to facilitate emergency calls for special types of blood.

The system is a new approach to the blood donor program which has attracted nation-wide attention through the national Elks magazine. More than a hundred Elks and their wives were typed recently at a similar evening.

Technicians from the Walnut Creek and Lafayette Medical Laboratories and Kaiser Hospital are donating their time and facilities to do the typing under the direction of Schaeffer.

Aside from its serious purpose, the event also will be of a social nature, with dancing and entertainment. Music will be provided by the "Elk Horns", under the direction of Farrell "Mickey" Reilly.

Fire Board Meet Will be Nov. 21

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the Orinda County Fire Protection District has been changed from the regular meeting night of November 28 to November 21 because the regular meeting night falls on Thanksgiving Day.

PH Fisherman Safe After Being Adrift Three Hours

After spending nearly three hours on a makeshift raft 40 miles at sea, a Pleasant Hill fisherman was rescued off the Central California Coast Wednesday.

Herbert Beem, 475 Hookston Road, Pleasant Hill, was picked up by the fishing boat Malihini after Beem's 40-foot trawler, the Sea Hag, sank. The Malihini was en route to San Francisco and reported to the Coast Guard there that Beem was in good condition.

Beem abandoned his boat, a converted landing craft, at 4:30 a.m. after sending out an SOS that he was 90 miles off Cape San Martin between Monterey and San Luis Obispo and that his vessel was sinking.

The Coast Guard dispatched a rescue plane and the cutter Active from Morro Bay and put out a marine emergency radio broadcast to all ships at sea.

Beem left Berkeley Yacht Harbor Monday heading for Southern California water in search of albacore. His wife, June and two daughters, noted that he has gone out alone four or five times this year for fishing trips.

Flag Football Winners Told

The fifth grade Parkmead Indians, sixth grade Buena Vista Bears won the top spot in Flag Football as final scores and percentages were tallied last week at the end of the Flag football season.

All games were played at Walnut Creek City Park, with daily practice held at the individaul schools.

Coaches for the season were Bill Russell, Parkmead; Jack Terry, Murwood; Stanley Kvern, Walnut Creek; Bruno Chiavini, Buena Vista; and Bill Meagher, Walnut Heights.

Flag Football is sponsored by the Walnut Creek Recreation Commission, under the overall direction of Bob Maxey, General Supervisor.

New Ski Club Has Meeting, Plans Trips

The newly organized Walnut Creek Ski Club met yesterday at the Pleasant Hill Intermediate School on Boyd Road, Pleasant Hill.

Movies of skiing were shown by John Knox, a resident of 119 Sanko Road, Pleasant Hill. Members are from Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill and Concord.

Skip Walters is president of the group. Other officers are Knox, vice president; and Mrs. Knox, secretary.

New members are being sought. Participants are planning future ski trips, to rent a lodge, and later secure a lodge belonging to the club.

County Heart Group to Speed Local Research

Dr. Howard Flanders, president of the Contra Costa County Heart Association, announced that a stepped up local research program will be conducted by the organization.

First local grant under this program was made to the Contra Costa County Hospital. Dr. Louie Girtman, assistant medical director and member of the Heart Association board of directors, accepted a check for $1000 for research.

This amount is for purchase of equipment to complete facilities for research into diagnosis and treatment of cardiovascular diseases in the county.

ACCORDING TO Dr. George Degnan, medical director of Contra Costa County Hospital, it will be approximately one year before the program will be in full operation.

Dr. Gerald Crenshaw, chief of Thoracic Surgery, and Dr. James Lynch, physician in charge of Chest Diseases at the Hospital, will be in charge of the program. They are organizing a medical team including other medical specialists and technicians which may serve as an additional resource to physcians in the community who have patients who need these additional diagnostic and treatment resources.

The Contra Costa County Heart Association will continue, for the second year, to support the work of Dr. John W. Gofman, professor of Medical Physics at the University of California.

A THIRD GRANT was made to Dr. I. L. Chaikoff, of the University of California School of Medicine. He is undertaking an extensive study of the prevalence and nature of naturally occurring cardiovascular disease in the animal kingdom.

Dr. Chaikoff will carry out studies on animals with a view to discovering how diet, as well as other factors, affects the animals and how the resultant finds can be translated to help man in his battle against heart disease.

Assisting Dr. Flanders are Mrs. Melvin Stauffer, Pittsburg, vice-president; Mrs. J. H. Schwarck, Orinda, secretary; Mrs. W. B. Marschner, Walnut Creek, treasurer. Mrs. Loyse Casebolt is executive director.

Members of the Board of Directors include Mrs. Robert Clough, Dr. Mary Eilert, William C. McIntosh, William Palmer, Chester Bekins, Douglas Cowan and Dr. Harold Robinson, Walnut Creek; Ivan Chappell, Danville; Dr. Marvin Epstein, Alamo; Mrs. Harold Powell, Lafayette; Dr. Louie Girtman, Martinez; Dr. Irving Fine and William Hogan, Concord.

Canyon Club Is Informed on Health Issues

The School Health Program was the main topic of the Canyon Community Club meeting last week.

Miss Marilyn aVn Heuit, Canyon School principal, and Miss Doris Sterlin, county school nurse, explained the services available through the County Health Program and both stressed the importance of having complete health records and asked the parents' cooperation. A dental care film, "It's Your Health," was shown.

Miss Philmena Drake and John Shally, school board members, explained the school finances and budget. They thanked the community for their volunteer contributions to the repair and clean-up of the school on the Annual Work Day and other projects this fall.

They stated that this help has made it possible to keep within a limited budget caused by reduced state aid income because of last year's small enrollment. With enrollment again increasing, they explained, the problem should be only temporary.

The club will have a bake sale at Clark's Market, Moraga, on Saturday, November 23, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Mrs. Ray Black is chairman. Proceeds will be used for the Canyon Community Christmas Program.

Hostesses for the meeting this month were Mrs. Al Reiter and Mrs. George Menge.

Comedy Fare at Acalanes High School November 23

"The Man Who Came to Dinner," Broadway stage play and later a successful Hollywood box office attraction, will be presented next Friday and Saturday, November 23, 8/15 in the Acalanes gym by the Don senior class.

The story of vitriolic character who comes to dinner and winds up staying on indefinitely, the Acalanes staging will feature Steve Pickering in the star role of "Mr. Whiteside."

Others in the student cast include Chris Romine, Judy Ackerman, Peter Morrissey, Judy Henedrson, Ernie Fox, Anne Coakley, John Boyd, Allan Hewitt, Donna Stegman, Joey Ttuttle, Doug Parker, Bill Shurtleff, Lauri Steinke, Tom Phair, Jules Accardi, Jackie Amis and Arne Groennings.

Aside from their roles in the play, Steinke, Amis and Groennings also double backstage as assistant director, prompter and stage manager, respectively.

The production is under the direction of Acalanes drama instructor Betr Trulsson. The general public is invited.

Final Tea, Book Review Thursday

The concluding Book Review Tea of a fall series featuring Mrs. Lloyd Truman and sponsored by the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, St. Stephen's Drive and Las Vegas Road, Orinda, will be held on Thursday at 1 p.m.

Mrs. Truman will review a recently published book of general interest. Holders of series tickets will be able to bring guests on the unused portions of their tickets. Tickets for the single review at $2 may be purchased at the door.

Hostesses under the chairmanship of Mrs. T. E. Haley will be Mesdames Ben Johnson, Ernest Fallentine, Aubrey Peterson, oJhn McFarland, Harold Doane, LeRoy Kennedy, Ida Zamlock, William Arends, Lester Gease and George Goerl.

Hear Talk on Field Service

Soroptimists International of Lafayette-Orinda had as a recent guest speaker Mrs. Frances Jensen, mother of Lin Jensen, exchange student from Las Lomas High School. Lin spent this past summer in Germany as a guest of a German family.

Mrs. Jensen gave a quick briefing on the American Field Service and the work they are doing with exchange students who are brought here for the school year, and the American students that are sent abroad for the summer.

'Core Program' Is Successful, Trustees Told

The "core program" at Stanley Intermediate School, a transition-type program between elementary school and high school, is working out "exceptionally well," Principal Edward Brown reported to the Lafayette School Board Monday night.

This is the first year the "core program" has been followed in the Lafayette School District. Under it seventh and eighth grade students have separate teachers for different groups of studies, plus separate teachers for special subjects.

In addition, each eighth grade student chooses an elective, for which subject the student attends a class one period each day.

Basic groups, or "blocks," of subjects include language - arts and mathematics - science.

THE LANGUAGE - ARTS group includes reading, English, spelling and composition. The mathematics - science group includes subjects in the field of mathematics and science.

Special subjects include physical education, art and music.

Among electives are domestics, typing, journalism, instrumental music, choral music and advanced science.

The board meeting was in the district Administration Building on School Street.

SUPERINTENDENT W. B. Ellis, now back on the job after recovering from a heart attack suffered early in August, was present, as was Dr. H. Frank Bradford, assistant superintendent.

The trustees granted Lloyd Rudholm, district gardener, his request for a 15-day contract extension for planting and patio paving at Happy Valley School.

Kirkham Is Awarded Contract

C. F. Kirkham of Walnut Creek has been awarded the contract for the job of constructing the third Lafayette fire house, to be erected at St. Mary's Road and Hamlin Drive, it was announced by the Lafayette Fire Board this week.

Kirkham's bid of $29,242 was the lowest of nine bids submitted at the November 5 meeting of the fire board. The architect is Jack Buchter.

Completion of Fire House No. 3 is expected by about three months from now.

At the November 5 meeting the commissioners called for bids for construction of Fire House No. 4 at Upper Valley Road and Los Arabis Drive. Paul Hammarberg is the architect. Bids will be opened at a special meeting of the board November 25, 8 p.m., at the main fire house on Moraga Road.

On November 2 at the main fire station the fire district conducted an auction of surplus equipment. Principal item was the old Model T fire engine, with the Lafayette Junior Chamber of Commerce successfully bidding for it with an offer of $315.

Jaycee President Cameron Ashby made the bid for his organization. Commissioner George Parkhill was auctioneer.

Anthems Will Be Presented In Concert

A concert of anthems chosen as favorites by choir members will be presented by the choir of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, St. Stephen's Drive and Las Vegas Road, Orinda, Wednedsay at 8 p.m.

The concert will be preceded by a Choral Evensong service at which the Rev. Albert Lucas, rector of St. Stephen's will officiate. Cantor for the service will be Stan Stidham, lay reader in the church and one of the tenors in the choir.

The choir is directed by Donald Aird, who also directs the Berkeley Chamber Singers and is lecturer in music at Stanford University. He will accompany the choir on the organ during the concert and will play an organ offertory solo. During the service the organ will be played by John Rucker, a student of Aird's.

Soloist for the evening will be Audrey Ingram, soprano. Solos during the anthems will also be sung by sopranos Jane Deubner, Carol Aird, Margaret Kessler and Mrs. Ingram and baritone David Cuthbertson.

A coffee hour in the undercroft will follow the concert. Hostesses will be Mesdames Ben Johnson, Christie and Robert Moorehead. The general public is invited to attend.

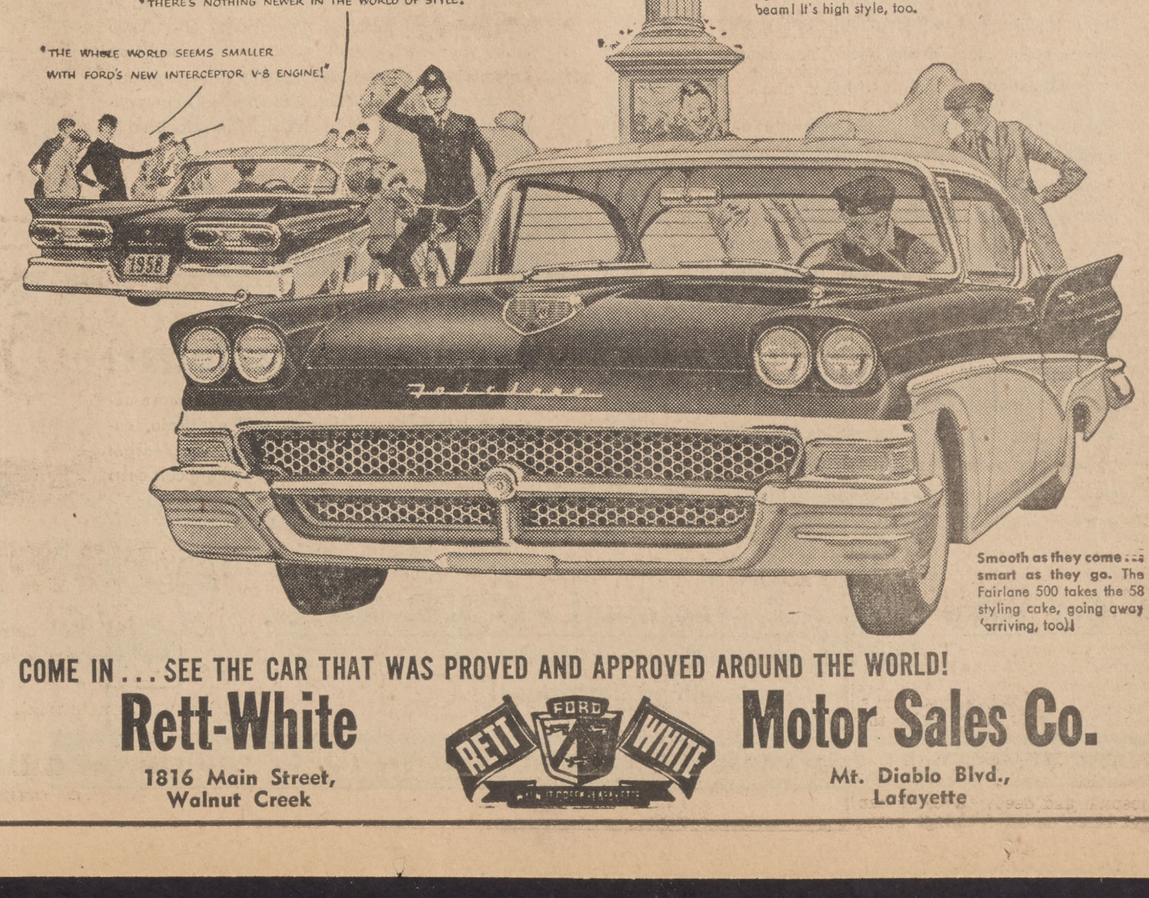
The 58 FORD is here now...
there's nothing newer in the world
There's bold, new styling—new Interceptor V-8 Power—new Cruise-O-Matic Drive—new Ford-Aire Suspension! The 58 Ford is the only car ever to meet a world-wide test and win world-wide approval before its public premiere!
You could search the world over and never find a car to match this 58 Ford's new beauty . . . new power . . . new ride . . . all at the low Ford price. We know! We tried it!
In Paris . . . the most style-conscious fashion critics in the world had a deep, low bow for Ford's latest style creation. In the mighty Himalayas, Ford's new Interceptor V-8 engine with Precision Fuel Induction won the day!
Then there's nothing newer than the true air ride of Ford-Aire Suspension. It's like riding on a cloud! But, you don't have to go to foreign soil to drive this newest Ford. We'll gladly save you the trip. Come in today!
From London to Bangkok . . . the whole world loved it!
The 58 Ford stopped traffic in Trafalgar Square when it passed through on its round-the-world trip. And that was typical of the excitement this Ford caused in Paris . . . Rome . . . Athens . . . Istanbul . . . Calcutta . . . and Bangkok. For this Ford was proved around the world in the toughest "shakedown" cruise in history.
With all that's new for a world of difference
You'll ride in a new world of fashion with Ford's deep-sculptured styling. From new Power-Flow hood to Safety-Twin taillights, Ford's worlds-ahead styling is a standout! There's a new Slipstream roof . . . a new Sculptured rear deck that's out of this world.
You'll be ahead with Ford's new Interceptor V-8 and Precision Fuel Induction. Gives you up to 300 hp. Smoother power . . . more power . . . from less gas! The secret is Precision Fuel Induction, a new carburetion, fuel feeding, and combustion system.
You'll get up to 15% more gas savings with new Cruise-O-Matic Drive teamed with the new Interceptor V-8. New D1 position, used for normal driving, lets you move smoothly—with a touch of your toe—from solid-feeling take-offs right up to highway cruising speeds.
You'll ride on a cloud instead of a spring with Ford-Aire Suspension. This is the way you've dreamed of driving—floating on air! Four air pillows literally soak up any sign of a bump. Car relevels every time someone gets in or luggage is loaded.
You'll steer with a feather touch with Ford's new Magic-Circle Steering. Nothing rolls like a ball, and that's the secret of Ford's handling ease. Free-moving steel balls in the steering gear are virtually friction-free—give you the closest thing yet to power steering!
Your night driving is safer with Ford's Safety-Twin Headlights. You get safety you simply can't get with single lights . . . special light for high beam . . . special light for low. It's the biggest advance since the sealed-beam! It's high style, too.



Smooth as they come . . . smart as they go. The Fairlane 500 takes the 58 styling cake, going away (arriving, too)!
COME IN . . . SEE THE CAR THAT WAS PROVED AND APPROVED AROUND THE WORLD!

Volunteer Bureau Has Juvenile Hall Spot

Juvenile Hall has many volunteer jobs open for all with a desire to help. One Volunteer referred to the Hall thru the Volunteer Bureau of Contra Costa County has found just what she enjoys doing.

The children at the Hall love to dance and our volunteer enjoyed folk daneing; as a result she was able to teach the youngsters her favorite dances. During the holiday season she serves as entertainment chairman, bringing in Professional entertainment and supervising the decorating of the Hall and serving of refreshments at the parties.

She also finds time to offer transportation to those needing it; to obtain extra clothing for the youngsters. This volunteer came to the Volunteer Bureau not knowing what she could do, but she wanted to help somewhere. She found just her interests at Juvenile Hall and in so doing helped the children at the Hall and found new interests outside the home, according to Mrs. E. C. Sterling, Jr.

The Bureau would like to see you! There are many different jobs open. Even though you think you have nothing to give, you'll find you have abilities that you never knew about. You will not only be serving your community, but you will be widening your interests outside the home, she added.

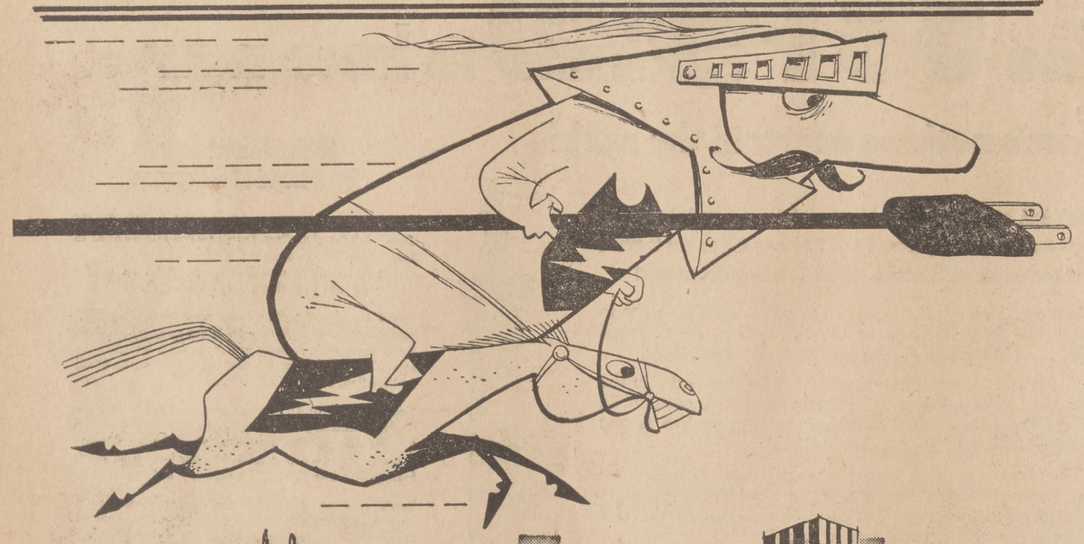
Enjoy MORE POWER!



Enjoy MORE POWER IN YOUR HOME!

Many families are enjoying their homes only half as much as they should because of skimpy, outdated wiring.

Homes that were wired to handle only lights and a radio cannot safely take on a TV, an electric range, refrigerator, freezer, toaster, garbage disposal, mixer, automatic washer, automatic dryer, and a dishwasher. The extra load on outdated wiring results in blown fuses or fire hazards, as well as poor performance from appliances.

Yet these wonderful electric servants can double your enjoyment of modern living, when you have enough HOUSEPOWER. So, if you are a home owner, or building, or remodeling, call an electrical contractor using qualified electricians, and enjoy HOUSEPOWER!

Enjoy MORE POWER IN STORES AND OFFICES!

When you modernize skimpy, outdated wiring in your store, business, or professional office, you make your location look more attractive and step up your income. Adequate lighting also cuts errors, increases property value. Keep up with competitors—commercial use of electricity has doubled in the past 10 years.

Enjoy MORE POWER IN SCHOOLS AND INDUSTRY!

In schools good lighting results in faster, more accurate learning, cuts fatigue and eyestrain, encourages students with a psychologically pleasant atmosphere. In factories the best lighting cuts costs by as much as 25%, accidents by 50%, and spoilage by as much as 90%.

Teen Drivers Will Be Topic At Parent Meet

All parents of high school students will be interested in the program at the meeting of the Acalanes Parents Club on Monday evening, according to club officials.

"Teenage Driving Problems" is the theme, and the different aspects will be explained.

Many questions have arisen with the new developments in driving regulations and they will be answered by the proper authorities, according to Art Rinne, program chairman for the evening.

Rinne will introduce the following speakers:

Sheridan Loyd, insurance expert; James Nelson, chairman of the social studies department and driver education at Acalanes; John McLean, instructor of driver education, and a representative of the California Highway Patrol.

Refreshments will be served after the program by Mrs. H. G. Noack and her committee.

Gateway Singers Show Is Tomorrow

The Gateway singers will perform at the Acalanes High School Auditorium for the benefit of the Lafayette Cooperative Nursery School tomorrow night at 8:15.

The folk singers appeared at the "hungry i" in San Francisco for a long run and have toured throughout the country.

Among the better known numbers are: "This little light", "Puttin' on the style", "Run, come see Jeruselum", as well as some quite contemporary spoofs such as "Dr. Freud."

Ushers for the affair are from the Acalanes High School Music Club. Those assisting will be Jo Anne Sharp, Lolayne Widel, Fran Elvin, Candace Gabrielle Lapanchet, Phyylis Hansen, Jackie Romak and Barbara Sadler.

Register at Fire Stations

Persons who wish to register for voting may do so at any of the three Orinda fire houses up to 9 p.m. daily, including Saturdays and Sundays, Clarence Betz, secretary and finance officer of the Orinda Fire District, announced yesterday.

Betz said that the Orinda fire commissioners had asked him to inform the public, through The Sun, that the fire department is offering this service.

Locations of the three Orinda fire houses are as follows:

Station 1, Avenida De Orinda, in Orinda Village; Station 2, Moraga Highway and Orchard Road; Station 3, Honey Hill Road and Via Las Cruces.

CHECK SPARE

It's a good idea to check the spare tire of your automobile occasionally. Air pressure in the spare may not be properly inflated for immediate use if you should have a flat tire.

Barden Attains Rank of Ensign

Stephen O. Barden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lance S. Barden of 44 Crest View Drive, Orinda, received a commission as ensign in the U. S. Coast Guard Reserve recently upon completion of the four months' Officer Candidate School at the U. S. Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn.

Moraga School Vote Is Tuesday

The voters of the Moraga School District will decide Tuesday in a special election, whether to authorize the District Board of Trustees to borrow up to $1,500,000 from the state for construction of a new school buiiding.

Deputy District Attorney Charles Hemmings told The Sun that a two-thirds vote will be required for passage, just as in a bond issue election.

The November 19 election will not have a bond issue proposal on the ballot, because the district is already bonded to capacity, Charles E. Toll, principal of Moraga School, explained.

Purpose of and reasons for the proposed authorization to borrow up to $1,500,000 from the state were explained to some 75 persons in attendance at a regular school board meeting at Moraga School.

Why Not Take Suggestions To County Grand Jury?

What can the Contra Costa Grand Jury do to help straighten out trouble in Contra Costa County?

The answer to that question depends a lot on what the county (and its residents) do to help the Grand Jury.

Does this sound like a paradox? Well, it's not as mixed up as one might think.

Where does the Grand Jury get its information? How does it go about investigating problems, and how does it find out whether or not there are any problems?

FOR ONE THING, there is the report filed by the previous Grand Jury. This was an excellent report, and can act as a "guide" in many respects for the present Grand Jury.

But action on the recommendations included in that report is not up to the present Grand Jury — it's up to the board of supervisors.

In this respect, the hands of the Grand Jury are tied. They can make recommendations, and point out in a public report, the findings of their investigations, but short of indictments, they can do little.

An example of what a Grand Jury can do to clean up the county government was provided by the last panel which dealt with the Cunningham-recorder affair.

But action is almost completely in the hands of the supervisors. We would suggest that they review the last report, and state publicly what action they have taken on the recommendations.

WHERE ELSE can the Grand Jury get its information? It can conduct its own investigations, but here it is hampered by lack of manpower and, in many cases, by lack of cooperation from the district attorney's office.

Therefore, it can only inquire into various county procedures and make recommendations on its findings.

But this is where the individual comes in — and he can play an extremely important part. As taxpayers and residents, we are entitled to good, clean, county government, and if we have any suspicions that things are not as they should be, there is a place to turn to.

That place is the Grand Jury.

IN REPORT after report, past Grand Juries have commented that they received no complaints from residents. Thus they could almost assume that the coutny population is either content or complacent.

If you have any complaints, you will be doing yourself and your county a service if you take them to the Grand Jury rather than just "griping," because whoever hears your "gripes?"

Foreman of the present Grand Jury is William M. Hale Jr., Box 364, Diablo, and any information sent to him will be channeled to the proper committee for study.

Other local Grand Jury members include J. C. McKean of Pleasant Hill and Peter Howard of Walnut Creek.

These are the people to contact.

Why not give it some thought, while there is still time for action. It is always better to do something constructive than to do nothing at all.

And the Grand Jury would appreciate the effort. It would make their job a lot easier.

The Staff Corner

On Suburbia's Laughter

By JULIUS ROSENTHAL

Being a somewhat melancholy person inclined to brood unduly over some of the negative aspects of existence, I was, quite naturally, reflecting on the well-known healthful effects of a sense of humor, on a recent afternoon.

The value—rather, the necessity—of possessing and excercising a mature sense of humor is something which present-day life underscores again and again. One doesn't have to be a profound scholar to understand and appreciate that.

But I wonder how many of us, here in Central Contra Costa County, realize the heartening extent to which this essential sense of humor has been developed right here in our own Suburbia, making it almost a home-grown product.

THE SPRINGBOARD for that observation is the recent successful "Laf-Frantics of '57," melodrama-and-olio extravaganza which local groups presented on three weekends in October at Lafayette Town Hall for the benefit of the Lafayette Community Center.

There was more than just old-fashioned "mellerdrammer" and slapstick vaudeville on the boards at "Laf-Frantics." There were also hilariously clever rib-tickling and—by subtle indirection—a bit of mild fun-poking at Suburbia.

Another example of local humor-dispensing until a few years ago was the annual "Absurdia in Suburbia" show put on by the Orinda Mothers Club.

MUCH MORE SO than "Laf-Frantics," "Absurdia" jabbed repeatedly at the fads and foibles of Suburbia. If the Orinda moms and dads who performed in this production hadn't so enjoyed living in Orinda they wouldn't have been able to satirize themselves and suburban living so well.

So popular was "Absurdia in Suburbia" that each year the production became bigger and better, and each year more performers and backstage helpers participated and more people came to see, hear, laugh and help finance the worthy objectives of the Orinda Mothers Club.

In fact, the annual "Absurdia" got to be such an ambitious, energetic, time-consuming project that the Orinda Mothers Club decided to give all hands a rest from thespian endeavors, and a few years ago the club substituted an annual fashion show for "Absurdia" as a money-raising event.

Some members of the club are in favor of some form of revivial of "Absurdia in Suburbia." Whether or not it is revived, "Absurdia" remains excellent proof that Central Contra Costans can laugh at themselves, when such laughter is warranted, and thus clear the way for more efficient expenditure of energy for community improvements.

HUMOR OF A LESS SUBTLE but equally vigorous quality has been furnished by the "Firemen's Five" band of instrument-players from the Walnut Creek Lions' "Firemen's Five."

In giving out with this particular type of humor and thereby raising the general level of community morale, the Walnut Creek Lions have rendered an important service above and beyond the ordinary call of service-club duty.

IT'S A GOOD THING we're so adept at clowning and at laughing at ourselves.

Because of that ability we're pretty certain not to make the serious mistake of taking all our community and area problems too seriously—and because of it we're also able to perform our roles as citizens more effectively.

You can almost imagine a conscientious person saying, "Haw, haw! That surely was a delightful, side-splitting show! Now how about a good argument on incorporation, the status of our fire district, the city manager system or the water district?"

Junior Red Cross Is Seeking New Members

Students in public schools here will be given the opportunity to enroll in the Junior Red Cross, which bands the nation's youth together to provide a variety of good citizenship-building activities on the community, national and international levels.

The Enrollment will be carried on through the month of November in the schools serviced by Mt. Diablo Chapter.

THE JUNIORS serve in virtually all Red Cross chapter activities as well as their own program, through the Junior Red Cross work they experience the satisfaction that comes from voluntary service to others.

Under the supervision of their Teacher - sponsors the students from Acalanes and San Ramon High School have sent numerous school chests overseas to disaster victims and areas where it is necessary to set up emergency classrooms. At the present time students from Miramonte are working on Hogan Kits to be used by the Navajo children. Schools in the Orinda, Lafayette, Moraga, Canyon, Walnut Creek, Danville, Alamo, San Ramon and Pleasant Hill area have been active in packing Gift Boxes that have been sent to children in other lands.

VALLECITO SCHOOL at Lafayette has chosen to work on raised covers for the Braille magazines. Students from the five high schools and representatives from the seventh and eighth grades meet monthly at the Mt. Diablo Chapter House to exchange ideas and work out possilbe service projects for their respective schools.

Enrollment fees finance the JRC services, locally it also enables the Chapter to send Juniors to leadership training centers. Eight students were sent to Silver Lake, Amador County this past summer where they received leadership training, to better qualify them for leadership in their own schools.

Young Harpists to Play At Acalanes, Tuesday Eve

A harp quintet, five young ladies who call themselves "The Angelaires," will be heard at the Acalanes High School auditorium on Tuesday night at 8:15.

The concert is under the auspices of the Acalanes Community Concert Association.

Music from every period and every style will be included from Bach to Debussy, Spanish dances and contemporary music.

The Angelaires were organized seven years ago, and have since won widespread recognition in the music work. They have appeared in a variety of concerts and on television where they have been featured on such programs as Ed Sullivan's "Toast of the Town."

The members of the group are as follows:

Patricia Wentworth, Corpus Christi, Texas, took up the harp at 12 and at 15 played with the Corpus Christi Symphony. She was graduated from the University of Texas with a degree in music.

Gayle Horn, another Texan, began studying piano at 5. She took up the harp at 15 and played with the Texas All-State Orchestra and the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra.

Jude Mollenhauer, Quincy, Illinois, began her harp study at the age of 9 and while still in high school played with the symphonies of Quincy and Peoria, Ill.

Ruth Wickersham, born in Quakertown, Pennsylvania, was harpist with the Oberlin Orchestra. She has appeared on Paul Whiteman's radio program.

Joan Harrison, Washington, D. C., graduated from Washington High School and went to Catholic University on a scholarship. She has appeared at Constitution Hall and numerous churches and radio programs.

Division Leader Thelma Braley Is

Mrs. Thelma Braley has been elected president of the Women's Division, Contra Costa County Real Estate Board.

Her officers are Lenore Tiedeman, vice president, and Vany Knerr, secretary. Committees will be appointed.

Mrs. Braley has been in the real estate business in this area for two years. She is associated with the John Loop Company, Orinda.

She was born in Uniontown, Penn., and was a housewife in New York for 14 years. Her husband is a business consultant They have three children, Pamela, 14, Franklin, 12, and Barbara, 8.

Letters to The Editor

'POLITICIANS' NEST

Dear Editor:

A few years ago you have made yourselves very popular due to your efforts in cleaning up a reeking political situation in our county.

It seems it is necessary again to stir up that politicians' nest in Martinez, as the Cunningham affair indicates.

It is deplorable to have a law which forces us to support a low grade character, who has cheated us for years, with a $500 a month pension for the rest of his life.

I hate to think that my whole county tax is used to support such a person and that legally.

Name withheld on request.

CONGRATULATIONS

Dear Editor:

Congratulations to The Sun for printing the article on the Mt. Diablo PTA Council meeting at which the District Attorney was supposed to answer questions on child molestation.

The council is sincerely working on this problem and it seemed to me that the substitute sent by Mr. Collins evaded answering many of the important questions presented to him.

In my opinion it seems as if Contra Costa County is just laying out welcome mats for sex deviates by allowing them to plea guilty to lesser charges.

As you perhaps know this action eliminates any record of this person being a morals offender.

Heaven forgive all of us if a tragedy such as befell little Stephanie Bryan of Berkeley should have to happen here before serious action is taken.

EVALEEN GRANT

ON "LETHARGY"

Dear Editor:

The lethargy of the vast majority of the citizens of Contra Costa County, labeled the most corrupt of all counties in the United States by Kefauvers Senate Crime Investigation Committee, continues to amaze me.

I hoped to hear of enthusiastic response to your excellent "Under the Sun" column on November 1 dealing with the costliness of dishonest government to the taxpayer (to you and me, not to the approximately 10,000 persons on relief in the other end of the county, incidentally!).

My husband and I were also appalled that no one seemed to be objecting actively to Mr. Cunningham's receiving approximately $500 a month for the rest of his life (will his estate continue to receive it after that?), this $500 to come right out of the taxpayers' pocket, after his having been ousted as county recorder for malfeasance in office, a condition which existed for heaven (and Martinez) only knows how long during his 23 years in office.

We have hired an attorney to investigate the possibility of bringing this deplorable situation to a halt. This kind of crime is especially offensive to us as we look over our tax bill. Does anyone else want to join the campaign?

MRS. MARK VALORY

DENTAL HEALTH

(Editor's note: All letters to the editor on fluoridation must be not more than 150 words in length. If they are longer than that, the editor will shorten them so that they do not exceed that length.)

Dear Editor:

Completely illogical are the statements of the anti-fluoridationists in repeatedly presenting the views of a single individual as positive proof that established national and international scientific organizations are "playing politics," instead of their true purpose in seeking to aid millions of people in our country and abroad in increasingly beneficient avenues to dental health.

An independent national agency founded jointly by the American Hospital Association, American Medical Association, American Public Health Association and the American Public Welfare Association has the following to state on the safety of fluoridation:

"The commission urges American communities to adopt this public health measure as a positive step in the prevention of the chronic disease, dental caries." ("Effects of Fluoridation of Community Water Supplies upon the Aged and Chronically Ill.") (Commission on Chronic Illness, March 1954.)

Elections of fluoridation are not lost where an enlightened community presents its informed opinion.

Great Game of Politics Is Gory but Interesting

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

For weeks now I have been writing notes on political rumors, trends and facts. So let's talk about the great and gory game of politics.

Don Doyle will not run for reelection to the assembly. You can look for a statement to this effect in February. Then, who will the republicans run?

Probably Sam Conti, the young attorney from Pittsburg. You'll remember that Conti challenged Supervisor Bud Buchanan in the last election and lost. A republican "Fact Finding" committee has had a couple of meetings already and are continuing their search for an assembly candidate. Conti is miles ahead of anyone else.

Meanwhile, democrat strength is behind Jerry Waldie, a young attorney from Antioch. This should be an intresting race. In the district, the democrats have about 6,000 more registered voters than the republicans — which is inconsequential. Conti and Waldie could very well split the labor vote, with Waldie probably having an edge. The strong republican strongholds of Orinda-Lafayette-Walnut Creek would go for Conti. You try and figure who will win!

Who against Baldwin?

Congressman John Baldwin will probably have an easy time — perhaps winning in the primary. The democrats can't seem to find anyone to run. John Sheridan, former mayor of Richmond and a labor leader, has been mentioned.

The sheriff's race should be a honey. (Of course, nothing could compare to the campaign three years ago.) Sheriff Harry Brown says he will run again and already two men in his department are campaigning.

Who will tangle for supervisor, district 3? Incumbent Ray Taylor will, of course, run for reelection. Some months ago a dozen names were being kicked around as opposing him but for some strange reason the picture now is quiet. I don't know of a single strong contender who is ready to toss his hat into the ring.

Supervisor Ivan Goyak from Richmond is up for reelection again. Haven't heard any rumors in this department.

Anyone for the bench?

Most active race may be for Justice of the Peace. Judge Thomson is going to retire and potential candidates are a dime a dozen. The latest is Fred Kracke, attorney and official of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County. Others include Attorneys Betsy Rahn, Vernon Patterson, George Walker, Terry Ring — to name a few. Should be interesting.

An appointment to the superior court bench is a much-sought-after prize. Recently Tom Fraga of Martinez was appointed to a newly-created judgeship. The battle for the job was terrific, with all the political powers of the county working to appoint their own man.

Soon Judge Harold Jacoby will retire — and the political forces are at work. Prediction: Tom McBride will get the appointment. He is an assistant county district attorney, Concord city attorney and has his own private law practice.

'Double Suns' Reveal Plan Of Kracke for Judge Race

"This is the first time I ever won anything. I was certainly suprised and delighted."

That's the comment Mrs. Frederick C. Kracke, 1870 Glen View Drive, Walnut Creek, made this week after she had won $10 cash as the result of "Double Lucky Suns" on her copy of the Sun Shopping News.

Asked what she plans to do with the $10, Mrs. Kracke said, "With my husband's permission, I intend to spend it for campaign buttons."

ONE THING LEADS to another, so, naturally, the reporter asked, "Campaign buttons for what?"

"For my husband's campaign if he runs for judge of the Walnut Creek Judicial District next year," Mrs. Kracke said.

Mr. Kracke then came to the phone and stated that he is seriously considering running for the office of judge of the Walnut Creek Judicial District in the June, 1958, election.

Kracke is an attorney and has been executive vice-president of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County for more than nine years.

BUT WHETHER or not you are contemplating running for office, you should be interested in "Lucky Suns" and "Double Lucky Suns"—which really have no connection with politics!

A "Lucky Sun" is a small yellow sun-symbol pasted on the upper left-hand portion of the front page of 39 copies of the Sun Shopping News each week.

"Double Lucky Suns" are two small yellow sun-symbols, pasted on the upper left-hand portion of the front page of one copy of the Sun Shopping News each week, and initialed.

IF YOU FIND a "Lucky Sun" on your Sun Shopping News, just bring or mail the portion of the front page with the "Lucky Sun" and with your name written on the paper or attached to it, to the nearest Sun office—and you will receive a free one-year subscription to The Sun of your choice.

If you're already a Sun subscriber, your subscription is extended for a year.

If you find "Double Lucky Suns" on your copy of the Sun Shopping News, bring or mail the front page with those symbols on it and with your name written on the paper or attached to it—and you will receive $10 cash.

MRS. KRACKE, the latest "Double Lucky Sun" winner, said that the postman called her attention to the cash-getting decoration on the paper.

"I probably would have noticed it, anyway," she added, "but it was certainly thoughtful of the postman to mention it to me."

Migrant Needy Are Subject of Tuesday Session

Mrs. Arthur Wagstaff, chairman of the Mt. Diablo Chapter Red Cross Home Service Committee, will conduct a meeting on Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. at the Chapter House.

The following persons representing agencies in the area are expected to attend: Mrs. J. H. Brubaker, local Salvation Army; N. L. Good, San Francisco headquarters of the Salvation Army; Mrs. Reggie Rice, local American Legion; Alfred J. Jungen, Veterans of Foreeign Wars in this area.

Robert S. Wymer, public welfare department, Martinez; Robert Tsu, St. Paul's Episcopal Church, representing Rev. W. H. Hodgkin, member of local Red Cross Home Service Committee; Police Chief Leigh Brilliant of Walnut Creek; Norman Wilson, deputy sheriff and head of the branch office in Lafayette of deputy sheriffs.

Bill Nottingham, chief of Walnut Creek Fire Department; Herb Larson, Pacific Area field representative, American Red Cross, and Jack Hohenberger, director of Mt. Diablo Chapter.

The meeting has been called for agencies in the community concerned about the pressures put upon them to assist the migrant individual or family and those families are not eligible under the law for public welfare assistance.

On The Lighter Side

by INA BLIESNER
YE 4-3818

WELCOME ABOARD, Mates—to a "Night On The Waterfront." That is the intriquing line which heads the invitations sent out by co-hosts, Ruth and John Bell and Connie and Leo Kieny. To quote further—"Embark on an evening of rock 'n roll; home cooked chow from our galley: Port of Embarkation, Pittsburg Yacht Club: Sailing time, at Six Bells; dress for the evening—"salty". Sounds GOOD to me.

Plans for the Walnut Creek School's "Harvest Festival" are really underway. Tomorrow things will be "buzzing" from 4 in the afternoon on. According to Chairman, pretty Mrs. Bill Bush, there will be plenty of games and entertainment and two delicious spaghetti dinners will be served, one at 5 and one at 7. Seems like a wonderful opportunity for a family outing.

The T. E. Lewises and Harry Martins have just returned from another of their fabulous trips. They were anxious to see parts of the Eastern United States (other trips were made to the Islands, Europe and the Carribean) and so they flew to Hartford, Conn., where they picked up a car and then toured such places as Vermont, Maine and New Hampshire—reporting that the scenery was even more breathtaking than expected. Imagine! THIS time of year!

(No) bones about this finale!

They also visited such southern historical points as Williamsburg. Spending a week in Washington, D. C. where they attended a convention—they took in all of the points of interest there. However, there was one small(?) flaw in the trip. During dinner, on the flight home, poor Harry swallowed a tiny chicken bone. Of course, he said it was "nothing"! But it was and the results were major surgery and a "vacation" in the hospital. What some people won't do for a finale!

Kay and Ed Wanous and their daughter have returned from a business-pleasure trip to Los Angeles. While there, they attended the U.C.L.A. (Ed is an Alum) home-coming game where they enjoyed joining many old friends. One day was spent seeing the sights at Disneyland.

The younger set reports that the Halloween party given by sister, Gretchen, and brother, Greg Merten was a "howling" success. They played a lot of "spooky" games, danced a lot of "real gone" dances, ate a lot of popcorn, do-nuts and pumpkin pie, and drank a lot of apple cider and hot chocolate. All adds up to success.

So you think swimming is over? Not for a lot of ambitious youngsters in the Pleasant Hill area. Last summer they formed the first A.A.U. team this side of the tunnel. Determined not to give up their training, they have rented the Mt. Diablo High pool and even 'though it is not covered and temperatures are lower than comfortable—these spunky ones turn out regularly for practice. A few are, Mildred Blumberg's daughter, Beverly; Bev Watson's son, Monte; and Shirley Wisecarver's daughter, Sharon.

These things have a way of appearing

Twelve year old Nancy Betaque has made her parents, the Dr. Norman Betaques, oh! so proud by winning the "Edward Markham Award" for poetry. They are not only proud but are astonished, for this talent is strictly NOT inherited. Nancy's poem, "I wonder" was presented at the Berkeley Little Theatre. The Betaque's are planning to spend Thanksgiving in southern California. Disneyland will be on the program, naturally.

ELEGANCE was the keynote a week ago when lovely Donna Susan White and Kenneth Jones were married at the Presbyterian Church in Walnut Creek. Donna was truly a vision—the skirt of her gown was so voluminous that it seemed a wonder that she and her handsome father could go down the aisle together — but there seemed to be no difficulty at all—due, I'm sure—to her being so graceful. Her attendants wore heavenly blue frocks and Ken's "aides" were oh! so formally attired. Mrs. White wore a stunning creation of turquoise blue lace.

Just one . . . but it's really something!

Many people are making many items for the "Christmas Gift Box" which will be opening on December 4. One of these people is Lola (Mrs. Frank) Tebbs of Orinda, who is making one item. But, WHAT an item. She is handcrafting the most beautiful old fashioned (with a new fashioned look) afghan. Muted wools in blues, lavenders and purples are being used. They say it is a dream.

Van and Stan Holmgren report, in a long, long letter (and a MOST interesting and descriptive one) that they are, literally, having the time of their lives. Upon disembarking from the S. S. Statendam, the entire family really "did" Holland. Loved it. They took a K. L. M. plane from Amsterdam to Geneva, their headquarters for the rest of the year. Children, Lynne, Larry and Karen are attending schools in a picturesque mountain village named Villars.

They are quite thrilled with their schools, particularly Larry, because he likes the food—even 'though he still can't get REAL American hot dogs and hamburgers. Van and Stan have already visited so many places—to name a few: Neuchatel, Bern, ("the city of clocks"), Lausanne (mainly to attend the operas), Montreaux, Zurich, Lucerne and Interlaken.

Lynne and Larry came down by train to week end with them in Montreaux. Wish I could just quote the whole fascinating letter—but to mention a few interesting tid-bits. Women and girls wear their nondescript aprons to school and on the street—maybe due, Van notes, to the high cost of cleaning and laundry.

No butter, but the food is good

Butter is not put on the table for either lunch or dinner, except in a few places catering to Americans—but there is plenty in the cooking. (They have loved the food everywhere). They cannot get quite used to seeing dogs brought into the better restaurants. All are well behaved and sit quietly under the table. One was even seen sitting on a stool at a counter being fed from his master's plate.

The Holmgrens are now in Paris where they will (or have) received delivery on a new Mercedes. In the meantime they have been using a 1940 model which they nicknamed "Methusalah". Apparently the old dear has held up very well—much to their relief!

Is it Conference week for you too? I'm off now for my first out of three. Yes, I'm shaking in my boots.

Marines Land -- And All's Well!

The Marines landed in Lafayette last Saturday and had the situation well in hand.

Dress blue uniforms for local Marines and Reserves and long glamorous gowns for their ladies, in the crowd of over 60 persons who attended the Birthday Ball at the El Nido, made the Marine Corps' 182nd anniversary, a very memorable and festive occasion for local celebrants.

Major General Joseph Smith (Ret.) of Livermore was guest of honor, addressing the handsome group assembled in the Garden Room. He later cut the three-tiered birthday cake, a creamy confecture that was escorted to the special banquet room by honor guards ceremoniously stepping to the martial air of the Marine Corps Hymn.

At the speaker's table were Lt. Col. Carlo Raveto, representative from Headquarters, Department of Pacific; Lt. Col. Chet Smith of Walnut Creek, who followed the cake-cutting with the commandant's message from Headquarters, and Lt. Col. and Mrs. George Madsen of Walnut Creek, the latter being commanding officer of Walnut Creek's Voluntary Training Unit.

Women's Reserve Major Marjorie Wolman was over from Berkeley. She is secretary to the regents at the University of California.

Additional guests at the Semper Fidelis celebration included Lt. Col. and Mrs. Kenneth P. Dunkle and Major and Mrs. Moreland Falkell, all of Lafayette; Lt. Col. and Mrs. John Hampton of Orinda, Capt. and Mrs. Emmett Laidlaw and Major and Mrs. Lawrence Scott, all of Walnut Creek, Capt. and Mrs. Charles Markham of Concord, Lt. Col. and Mrs. George Chapman of Berkeley, First Lt. Raymond Gilmartin of Oakland and Major and Mrs. James Freeman of San Pablo.

Mosaics Will Be Shown Thursday

A colorful array of mosaic pieces for both outdoor and indoor use, done by students in recently concluded mosaic classes sponsored by the Valley Art Center in Orinda, Lafayette and Walnut Creek, will be shown next Thursday from 4 until 8 p.m. at the Orchard Nursery, off Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette.

Punch and canapes will be served to attending members of the Valley Art Center, to students and to guests at the reception and show, which will exhibit, among others, terrazzo tables, and casts and works in plastics as well as imported glass and tiles. Tables, sundials, hangings and garden ornaments will be featured.

Orinda students of Mrs. J. Gordon Ainsworth who will exhibit include Mesdames Robert D. Dalton, Paul A. Cooper, Raney Reid, Paul Harom, Douglas S. Manuel, Edward C. Adams, Cecil Cutting and Jerry Phelan.

An average of 31,490 drivers per month are restricted in their driving privilege for various reasons by the State Department of Motor Vehicles.

Art Center's Election Dinner To Be Tomorrow

Plans for the Valley Art Center annual election dinner tomorrow night were completed at a Monday meeting of the hostess committee in the Happy Valley home of Mrs. Arthur Scheu. The dinner party will begin at 6:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Howard, 2385 Walnut Boulevard, Walnut Creek.

Immediately following dinner the slate of officers for 1958 will be announced. Sherer G. Culver is retiring chairman of the Valley Art Center board of directors. Mrs. Robert Love, Lafayette; Michael Czaja, Walnut Creek, and Parker Stack of Orinda, make up the nominating committee.

As plans for the annual meeting were finished, it was learned that an outstanding group of artists has submitted work for display at the Howard home. Members will be given an opportunity to rent any of these paintings for their holiday enjoyment.

Mrs. Pat St. John Moran, Orinda, discloses that among the artists exhibiting will be Peter Blos of Berkeley, landscapes; E2a2r2l Thollander of Marin County, whose painting Mrs. Moran describes as delightful in color and design; Don Galindo of Oakland, well known for his oils of animals, and Michael Czaja, Walnut Creek, who has offered one of his cathedral series oils. There will be oils by Lyle Lund and Lenore Voght, both of Lafayette, while Betty Pleshe of Walnut Creek will exhibit paintings in Gouache.

Center members may enjoy this collection over cocktails and later during a dinner consisting of roast ham, potato salad, moulded salads, hot rolls, coffee and cake. Mrs. William Ornduff, Lafayette, hostess chairman, urges that members get their reservations to Mrs. Howard Stafford, 3376 St. Mary's Road, Lafayette, as soon as possible.

Garden Section Attends Showing Of Yule Ideas

The Garden Section of the Lafayette Women's Club attended the demonstration of Christmas ideas at the Oakland Auditorium Theater November 7 and learned many interesting things.

The group drove in private cars to the event under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harold Caddel.

Among those attending were Mesdames M. H. Stanley, Mervyn E. Wall, Harry A. Hanson, Charles M. Weber, Naomi Dahlberg, George Simmons, Mark J. Schroeder, C. A. Rhodes, Oscar Huebner, R. H. Lockey, L. A. Frank, A. Barante, Ray Fullerton, T. J. Clark, R. E. Stroube, Lloyd P. Smith, Charles Lott, Albent Anaclerio, Vincent Lombardo, Carson A. White, Livingstone, Haskell and Wheeler.

Shrine Club Will Hold Formal Dance Friday

Plans for the Contra Costa Shrine Club Past Presidents' Formal Dinner Dance are virtually complete according to Ernest F. Dreyer, president.

This party, the feature social event of the Club's winter season, will be held next Friday at the Castlewood Country Club.

Dancing to the music of Henry Gallagher and his orchestra will be a major attraction to the Nobles and their ladies who reside in the East Bay area. All are welcome by contacting Ernest F. Dreyer of Danville or Frank Y. Kupper of Walnut Creek.

President Dreyer named Frank Kupper as general chairman and the following working committees: Refreshments—

H. Weeks, E. Page, R. Hendee, E. Flener, E. Holman, E. Dreyer, F. Kupper, W. Ascher, E. Kestner, J. Brown, E. Flakus, E. Sharp, A. Paladian, R. Walsh, Jr., and T. Hazlett.

Holiday Items Offered at Alliance's Boutique

Items for holiday decor and handmade individual gifts will be featured in the second annual Christmas Boutique of the Diablo Junior Museum Alliance, Thursday at the C. P. Howard residence, 2373 Walnut Boulevard, Walnut Creek. Mrs. Frank Young is Alliance chairman.

Early Christmas shoppers will find a wide assortment of decorations for yuletide festivities, decorated trees, original tree ornaments, artistic pinatas, holiday place cards and novelty items.

For gift-giving the display will offer articles for each age group from stuffed toy animals to fancy aprons.

And for "Big Game" goers the week of the Boutique, football boutonnieres and other trim for big weekend wear have been prepared.

During the Bazaar, tea will be served by Alliance members.

They are Mesdames William F. Anderson, Edmund S. Barnett, Frank C. Clapp, Robert Clough, Donald L. Coffin, M. J. Connelly, Jr., John S. Enright.

Mesdames John M. Floyd, A. C. Helmholz, H. K. Howard, Adrian K. Lindsay, Alex D. Lindsay, Sanford Marlor, M. K. Nielsen, Mel Nielsen, P. L. Schiedermayer, Monroe F. Smith, Owen L. Williams, Frank E. Young.

The public is invited. Hours are 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Jaycee Formal Dance is Tomorrow After Parties

Completing plans for their third annual invitational formal dance to be held tomorrow at Castlewood Country Club are members of the Walnut Creek Junior Chamber of Commerce and their wives.

Tickets were sold out a week ago to the 10 'til 2 affair, and 260 are expected to attend.

Decorations will follow the Holiday Formal theme, with white, gold and brown as the colors.

Some of the larger buffet suppers being planned before dance time will be given by the Fred Sanders, dance chairman, the Thomas Haspers and Ferd Wascoes, both committee members. The Sanders will entertain 32 guests, the Haspers 26 and the Wascoes, 10.

Reservations for 56 at the Danville Hotel have been made by the Ted Merrills, Baxter Kimbroughs and Thomas Clarkes after cocktails in their homes.

Robert Covert, president, and his wife will be hosts at a cocktail party for members of the City Council and Chamber Board in their home, while the Dale Wrights are expecting 26 and the Robert Williams, 10.

Other Jaycees bringing guests and some having smaller parties include Clifford Davis, Eldon Dickinsons, Bill Stone, Bob Nagy, Bill Kendrick, Richard Boucher, John Childers, John Troeger, Harry Kindorf, Wes Keys, Bill Kendrick, Russ Adams, Jim Axton, Jack Hartman and Dick Hart.

Nancy Louise Shahwan is New Bride

Nancy Louise Shahwan, Las Lomas High graduate, became the wife of Donald Arthur Benison, November 3, in ceremonies at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Walnut Creek.

The couple will live in Oakland, after returning from their honeymoon.

Nancy was given away by her father, Andrew Shahwan of Oakland. Rev. Spacius performed the rites.

She wore a chantilly lace gown with chapel train, seed pearls around the neckline, fingertip sleeves, a seed pearl and rhinestone tiara with finger tip veil.

Her bouquet was of stephanotis, white orchids and butterfly orchids. Her going-away outfit was a violet blue sheer wool sheath with matching jacket piped in velvet, a white velour hat and black accessories.

Attendants were Mrs. Robert Ramia, formerly Eleanor Cooper of Walnut Creek, and Misses Carolyn Lovena, Karen McNamara and Mary Walsh. Flower girl was Miss Linda Guisipone, cousin of the bride.

The reception was held at the El Nido Rancho garden room.

The bride has attended Holy Names College, Oakland. Her mother is Mrs. Ernest Flener of 1681 Newell Avenue, Walnut Creek.

Linda Baker Named to Run For Frat Queen

Miss Linda Baker, Orinda, is one of the 19 University of California co-eds from which this year's Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity Dream Girl will be chosen.

Daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles P. Baker, 114 Camino Don Miguel, she was selected by her sisters in the Alpha Delta Pi Sorority to represent them in the Dream Girl competition.

Each year the Cal chapter of Delta Sigma Phi honors its Dream Girl by sponsoring her in their fraternity's national contest. The fraternity was founded in 1899 and has been on the Berkeley campus since 1915.

Miss Baker is a graduate of Acalanes High School. She is a senior majoring in General Curriculum at the University.

The first votes for the Dream Girl were cast Saturday at the fraternity's Open House following the Oregon State-Cal game. The final choice will be made during the Coronation Ball, December 14, at the Mark Hopkins Hotel. The Delta Sigs will present a jeweled fraternity pin, a trophy and flowers to their Dream Girl.

Alamo Unit To Present Pianist

The Alamo Women's Club is presenting Randall Van Houten Stone to this area at an Autumn Musical Tea on Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Alamo Women's Clubhouse. Tickets are $1. Tea will be served after the concert.

Mr. Stone received his first formal piano instruction under the direction of Miss Mary I. Short of Spokane, who guided him through his elementary and high school years of music. After graduating from Iowa State Teachers College with a degree in Music Education, he studied under Edmond Haines, Head of the Music Department of Sarah Lawrence College, New York.

Later he studied with Antonia Brico of Denver, Alexander Liebermann of Oakland and Adolph Baller of San Francisco and Palo Alto. This season marks his entrance into the concert field.

The club members consider it a great privilege to be able to give recognition to a promising young artist of Mr. Stone's ability.

Junior Women To Attend Weekend Meet

Three members of the Crestview Junior Women's Club will attend a meeting of the California Federation of Club-women, Junior Membership, today and tomorrow in San Mateo.

They are Mesdames Jack Corder, John Taylor and Marian DeWeerd.

Next Friday, the Crest View Junior Woman's Club will present John Wheatman, interior decorator from Jackson's. He will demonstrate holiday decorating ideas for the home. "All That Glitters" will be the theme for the afternoon. The profit will go to the philanthropic fund.

It will be held at the Pleasant Hill Recreation Center from 2 to 4 p.m. Tickets are available from members. A blanket will be awarded and the proceeds will go to the Pavilion Theater.

On Tuesday the Crestview Junior Woman's Club will donate cakes to the Friendship Club for Senior Citizens of Pleasant Hill, and also $3 for the Grange band.

Eastern Star Meeting is Tomorrow Eve

Almona Chapter No. 214 Order of The Eastern Star will meet tomorrow. A pot luck dinner will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Since this is the last meeting for this year's officers, jewels will be presented to the worthy matron and worthy patron.

Worthy Matron Alta Rosel and Past Patron Gereau Nordland will preside over the meeting.

Grand Chapter reports will be given by the worthy matron who just returned from grand chapter in Los Angeles.

Jo Marshall, associate matron, will be in charge of the dining room. She will be assisted by Claire Overstreet, Helen Hathcoat, Jean Briggs, Viola Crew, Ruth Garow and Irene Hardy.

St. Mary Frosh Give Thank-you Dance Tonight

San Francisco's Surf Club on Ocean Beach will be the site tonight for the Thank You Dance presented to the St. Mary's College student body by its freshman class. The hours are from 9 p.m. till 1 a.m.

Freshman class president Leo LaBelle has appointed as co-chairmen of the affair Ed Ryken and Dick Tarrant.

Local Women To 'Hostess'

Mrs. John Bell of Walnut Creek and Leo Kieny of Lafayette are co-hostesses for a Flicker Unit dinner dance to be held tomorrow at the Pittsburg Yacht Club.

Profits from the social event will go to the Mt. Diablo Therapy Cetner. The atmosphere will be that of a "waterfront restaurant."

MEMBERS OF THE Church of Christ of Latter Day Saints will tour homes of Pleasant Hill and Walnut Creek tonight as their annual fund raising drive "Around the World" gets underway. Humpty Dumpty Meeting Held Humpty Dumpty Chapter of Children's Home Society held its annual open house meeting at the home of Mrs. Donald Mastick on La Serena Avenue, Danville, Wednesday.

Speaker was Mrs. Hugh Lenahan of Oakland. Mrs. Lenahan has been extremely active in Children's Home Society, and helped set up the present Speakers Bureau for the organization.

Prospective members were honored at this meeting.

EMPLOYMENT

Motor vehicle manufacturing employed 800,000 workers in the United States during 1956. This represented a drop of 96,500 from the 1955 level.

Alpha Chis to Hear Mrs. Kaye

Mrs. David Kaye, Alpha Chi Omega district alumnae chairman, will speak at the regular meeting of the local Mt. Diablo Alumnae Club Thursday, 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Kaye, San Jose resident, supervises Alpha Chi Omega alumnae club and chapters in Northern California, Oregon and Nevada. She will conduct a discussion of problems and policies of alumnae clubs, including their relationship to collegiate chapters.

Executive board members of the Mt. Diablo club will entertain Mrs. Kaye at dinner preceding the meeting. Board members are Mesdames Harold Bowers, Orinda; Adrien Gensoul, Pleasant Hill; Gilbert Haley, Lafayette; John Park, Orinda; William Penn Mott Jr., Orinda, and Harold Hollister, Lafayette.

All Alpha Chis in the Diablo area are invited to attend the meeting. Refreshments will be served, with Mesdames Gensoul and Bentley aiding Mrs. Turk with hostess duties.

Art Group Will Meet Wednesday

The November meeting of the Cooperative Art Association will be held at the home of Mrs. Henry A. White, 60 Santa Rita Drive, Walnut Creek, Wednesday at 10 a.m.

With the holidays in mind, the meeting will feature a speaker from Elizabeth Arden on "Personal Decoration." She is Mrs. Hazelle Dole, Eastern representative for the well known Beauty firm. Her talk will include beauty hints, personal analysis and self-decorating and improvement.

This is the final meeting of the 1957 year and members may bring guests. Coffee will be served by Mrs. Melvin Cecchini and her committee.

The group will hold an election of officers, with Mrs. Glenn Max, nominating chairman, giving her report.

On December 4 the home of Mrs. Fred Von Guenthner, of Cross Creek Road, Walnut Creek, will be the setting for a joint meeting of the old and new boards.

This will be a Christmas party to honor teachers and the outgoing board.

Assisting the hostess in serving holiday cookies and punch will be Mesdames De Will Kruger, H. G. Noack and Robert Bailey.

Polio Shots Are Due Again; Many Need Third Shot

"Your neighbor's polio immunization does not protect you", Dr. Elvira Goettsch, Assistant Health Officer of the County Health Department, said today, urging vaccination of all citizens.

She explained. "The Salk vaccine does not wipe out the polio virus. Nt protects against paralysis but the virus remains alive and can be passed on to other people. Unless you have been imunized, you are as likely to get paralytic polio as you were before there was a Salk vaccine".

The initial series of shots necessary for maximum protection consists of three injections: the second a month after the first, and the third 7 to 12 months after the second.

Those who have had no immunization against polio should begin their series now. The many who received two shots early in the year should complete their series with the third shot now.

Children and adults may receive immunizations from their private physicians or from the local Health Department immunization clinics.

They include Pleasant Hill Community Baptist Church, 924 Pleasant Hill Road, second Tuesday and third Friday, 2 to 5 p.m.

The Health Department Office, Highland Building, 2363 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Walnut Creek, fourth Wednesday of each month, 2 to 5 p.m.

THE NEWLY FORMED Junior Red Cross Elementary Council is busy at work getting enrollment supplies ready for schools serviced by the Mt. Diablo Chapter at Walnut Creek. County Seeks Local Cancer Quack Cases

Local residents who know of any person pretending to treat cancer with a so-called "secret" cure, a phony machine, special diets, tonics, salves, pills, or powders were asked today to pass their information along to the Contra Costa County Branch of theAmerican Cancer Society.

Dr. A. R. Reinke, president of the Branch, said the Society is gathering reports on cancer quackery to implement its education program in this field.

"A file of information about cancer quackery already is available in the Branch office, but we want to fill in as many as possible of th gaps," Reinke said.

He announced that a new leaflet warning against cancer quacks has just been placed in distribution by the Branch. It is available without charge. x

Co-op Will Hold Craft, Art Show

The first annual Christmas Arts and Crafts Show of local artisans will be held Wednesday through Saturday, November 23, at the Co-op Center at 1510 Geary Road, at which paintings, jewelry, ceramics, and handwork will be featured and sold, with Mrs. William Henrikson of Orinda as general chairman.

"The many artisans and craftsmen in our community are welcome to sell and display their creative efforts. We are pleased to place our facilities at their disposal, and we look forward to having the many diversified artistic works being done scattered throughout our wide community brought together under one roof such a Yuletime Show," Mrs. Henrikson said.

THE SHOW will feature many originals with the emphasis on quality, she added.

Jewelry, ceramics, paintings, aprons and other handwork, and sculptoring will be presented in the meeting rooms at the Co-op Center.

SERVING WITH the general chairman are, Mrs. Julius Rosenthal of Lafayette and Mrs. George Jonas of Lafayette, publicity and promotion; Mrs. Margaret Miller of Pleasant Hill, posters; Mrs. John Morgan of Pleasant Hill, sales pricing; Glenn Myles of Berkeley, display.

Interested persons may contact Mrs. Morgan at Ye 4-5297 or Mrs. Henrikson at Drake 6-5054 for entry information.

Tomorrow Mrs. Myles will present a puppet show for children.

Maser Stresses Need For Skilled Labor

The Russian satellites have brought home anew the importance of skilled technical labor in the defense of America, A. P. Maser, president of the Northern California Chapter of the National Electrical Contractors Association, said today.

Maser, a Walnut Creek electrical contractor, declared:

"Sputnik is a maze of electrical wiring, just like a modern American home or business, and it takes a lot of technical training before a worker is qualified to handle electricity.

OUR ELECTRICIANS spend four years of hard study, and on the job training 52 weeks a year, before they are qualified journeymen. As contractors we help support and pay for this training because it is not only vital to our business, but to American defense."

Maser also pointed out that to keep the electrical servants and electrical brains of America humming, contractors have to stock thousands of precision electrical parts in their warehouse and in service trucks.

"IT TAKES technical experts with years of training, backed by big inventories of accurate parts, to do many of the seemingly simple electrical construction or repair jobs in a home or business," Maser said.

"Our equipment is expensive, our parts inventories big, our qualified electricians well paid because they are well trained—and all these costs are part of the bill for a simple service call that often removes a fire danger from a home or business."

Church Fair, Style Show Is Nov. 16

The Lafayette Community Methodict Church will hold its annual Fall Fair and Fashion Show Saturday, November 16.

The booths handling needlework, candy, cakes, books, doll clothes, toys and white elephants will open at noon and close at 9 p.m. They will be open through the three dinners and fashion shows at 5, 6 and 7 p.m.

Clothes from The Emporium will be modeled by children and adults.

Last year's fair was a big success.

Dinner reservations at $1.75 for adults and $1 for children may be made through Evelyn Christman or Pearl Nesbitt.

New Dramateur Auditions Will Be on Thursday

Auditions for the forthcoming Dramateur production will be held next Thursday at 8 p.m. in Fellowship Hall, Orinda Community Church.

Three recent comedy hits are under consideration — "Janus," "The Desk Set" and "The Anniversary Waltz."

The play which can be cast to the best advantage will be chosen.

This play is scheduled to be presented at Berkeley High Little Theater on February 21, 22, 28, and March 1, 1958.

There are parts for a teenage boy and a teenage girl, so members of the "younger generation" will be welcomed at tryouts.

Director Carl Rasmussen recommends that participants have some material prepared for these auditions.

Anybody interested in working on the play and helping with costumes, props, scenery construction or any backstage work are welcome to come to these tryouts and sign up.

Sparta Surprises DVAL: Whips Dons

Pacifica Wins First League Contest in History 25-20

In one of the season's biggest upsets the Pacifica Spartans used ball control to outscore and outlast the Acalanes Dons last Friday night 25-20.

When it came to statistics Pacifica held an even greater margin. Figures show that the Dons carried the ball 18 times to Pacifica's 71.

BALL CONTROL was shown by the fact the Spartans gained 432 yards on the ground to 167 for Acalanes. Acalanes did hold an edge in the air having 137 yards on five completions to Pacifica's 18 yards on one completion in six tosses.

Pacifica had a 20-7 edge in first downs. Big guns in the ball carrying department for the winners was Ivan Perkins, a halfback who ripped off 191 yards in 20 tries while fullback Bruce Kissinger accounted for 162 yards on 28 carries.

The game played at Pittsburg found Acalanes starting well enough as it took but four plays to score after taking the opening kickoff.

Three plays brought them to the 20 yard line of Pacifica from where halfback Stuart Busby found a hole over right tackle and went the distance.

BUSBY BOOTED the extra point to make it 7-0.

It was too much too soon for the Dons and they relaxed while the Spartans came fighting back. Pacifica took the kickoff & staged a 76 yard march of their own, winding up with a TD when Perkins went over from the two. The Dons blocked the conversion try.

It stayed 7-6 until the second quarter when Acalanes recovered a Pacifica fumble on the Spartan 30. In three plays the Dons went to the 7 and Busby swept end for the TD and converted making it 14-6 with Acalanes up.

The Dons later in the quarter had Pacifica first and 10 to go on their six. With third and five to go, Perkins got loose around left end and rolled 68 yards. Three plays put the Spartans in possession on the Acalanes 20 from where Kissinger scored around right end.

QUARTER BOB La Pointe crossed the Dons up when on a fake conversion kick he passed to Perkins for the extra point.

In the third quarter, Acalanes scored when quarterback Mike Kritschev faded back and heaved a long pass to flanker back Dave Bojarsky who took the ball in stride to score. The play covered 67 yards. Busby's conversion kick was wide.

The Spartans came back with a drive of their own to score with Perkins from five yards out after a 62 yard drive.

That brought the count to Acalanes 20, Pacifica 19.

PACIFICA'S WINNING touchdown came in the final quarter with four and a half minutes to go in the game.

Pacifica guard Bob Jones set the stage when he recovered an Acalanes fumble on the Don 37. In eight plays it was on the two and from there Perkins hit pay dirt again.

The conversion try misfired but it didn't alter the outcome.

The Dons took to the air but Pacifica tackle Bill Brady intercepted a pass with three minutes on the clock.

THE SPARTANS ground out yardage the rest of the way to retain possession of the ball and kill any chances the Dons might have had.

It was the first win for the Spartans in league play since joining the DVAL.

LL Knights Charge Past Antioch Cats 18-13 on Gridiron

The Las Lomas Knights did it for the second week in a row when they staged a closing minutes rally to bag an 18-13 win over the Antioch Panthers last Friday night.

Last week they staged a late comeback to upset the Pleasant Hill Rams.

KNIGHT HALFBACK Cecil Adams turned out to be the big gun of the night as he scored all three of the winners' touchdowns.

His initial TD came in the opening quarter. Starting on their own 43 it took the Knights nine plays to reach the two.

On the next call quarterback Steve Moore crossed up the defense when he tossed a pass to Adams in the end zone for the score. End Clark Ransome attempted the conversion kick but it was blocked.

THERE WAS no further scoring until the second quarter and this time it was the Panthers. In seven plays they drove 33 yards, then scored on a 17 yard aerial from quarterback Ernie Reyes to end Jerry Anderson and Art Regoli gave the Cats a 7-6 lead when he kicked the extra point.

The Knights were back in the lead in the third quarter when Adams followed by a 10 yard drive by fullback Roger Colwell with a 43 yard TD run off right tackle again Ransome blew the extra marker.

In the fourth quarter it was Antioch again for a TD when quarter Gil Cervantez passed 16 yards to Regoli. Regoli missed the try for the point and it was a 13-12 ball game with the Cats on the top.

THE KNIGHTS then took a deep breath and went to work going 60 yards in 14 plays to score what proved to be the winning TD. Adams posted his third TD in a one yard drive over left guard.

Ransome missed the extra point.

The Knights kicked off and when Antioch fumbled end Britt Williams recovered for Las Lomas and the Knights just ran the clock out for the win.

Offensive lights for the Knights besides Adams were Jim Hemstalk and Pete Ostrom. Williams and tackle Bob Blower drew comment for their fine defensive play.

Wolves Yelp for Mercy As Rams Rock to 59-6 Win

The Pleasant Hill Rams play Diablo tonight in the season's finale and if they are in the same mood they were in last last week the Devils will more than have their hands full.

Rolling to three touchdowns in the opening quarter the Pleasant Hill team scored a lucky 13 in each of the next three quarters to rock the San Ramon Wolves 59-6 last Friday night.

THE FIRST touchdown came when quarterback Dud Buffa hit end Warren Millham with a 30 yard scoring pass. The next six came when a 69 yard drive in eight plays was climaxed by a 20 yard run by halfback Tom Larscheid.

Halfback Dan Ipson scored next on a 71 yard run in a shot off tackle.

Ipson did it again in the second quarter with a gallop of 49 yards winding up a 62 yard drive.

Later in the second quarter Buffa hit Larscheid with a 30 yard scoring aerial. Opening the second half the Rams went all the way when Buffa took the pigskin on his 29 and tossed a lateral to Larscheid who was on the 19. Larscheid covered the distance of 81 yards to tally.

THE NEXT TD came when Ipson wound up a 67 yard drive with a 35 yard scoring run. In the final canto fullback Pat O'Connor galloped 49 yards to the 15 then scored on the next play.

The Rams' final tally came when Buffa passed again for a TD. This time for 35 yards to end Bull Dutton.

The Wolves' only score came in the fourth quarter when after a 55 yard drive they tallied on a 10 yard pass from quarter Mike Kyle to end Ed French. The Rams' conversion tries were:

Bill Locatelli kicked wide; Ipson ran the extra one; Larscheid ran the extra point; Locatelli kicked a good one; Locatelli missed the kick; Locatelli kicked the conversion; a fumble and the conversion; a fumble and the conversion flopped; O'Conner missed the conversion kick.

Junior Ice Hockey Slated For Play in Walnut Creek

By Marion Bonnington

One's loss is often another's gain is an old but true axiom for the boys of Contra Costa County. Boys between the ages of eight and thirteen found themselves in the enviable position of gainors to Alameda County's loss when the East Bay Junior Ice Hockey League was invited by Neil Rose and Skippy Baxter, to make its headquarters in Walnut Creek at the Walnut Creek Ice Rink.

The good fun and excitement of the games the League has played is well known by the boys and their families in Oakland and Berkeley where the League has been in operation for the past seven years.

ENTHUSIASM FOR ice hockey has been so keen among the boys who have been members of the League during its tenure in Berkeley that a nucleus of them have, for most of those seven years been practically commuting between here and Berkeley.

Several times each week during hockey season, which runs from September into April or May, head-coach Eric MacDonald and parents coming from as far east as San Ramon and south as Richmond transported potential ice hokey players to practice and games.

Now we are fortunate to have this wonderful sport at our front door. Come and bring your eligible boys to the Ice Rink at 1480 Crokerts Road, Walnut Creek, just off North Main Street. You have never had such fun!

WATCH YOUR BOY develop from an unsteady novice on ice skates to an enthusiastic ice hockey player and join the spirited group of parents who attend the exciting games to cheer on their son's team.

During all the years the Hockey League has been playing there has never been a major injury to any boy in the league. This no doubt is due to the emphasis placed by Mr. MacDonald and his assistant coaches on good sportsmanship, team spirit and discipline. The percentage of minor scrapes and bruises incurred is far less than would be encountered in a boy's normal day of play, because supervision of parents and coaches starts at the time the boy enters the rink and does not end until he leaves the rink.

The East Bay Junior Hockey League is a parent-controlled and operated, non-profit insured organization that is concerned wholly with the welfare of the youth of the East Bay. It is operated under its original constitution and amendments, copies of which may be had upon request. A monthly charge is made to cover the expenses of dues, insurance and uniforms.

ANY BOY between the ages of eight and thirteen will be taught to skate and eventually to play ice hockey with members of equal ability. The purpose of the league is to teach boys sportsmanship and team spirit. The boys participate on an ability basis rather than age group, consequently individaul competition is kept to a minimum.

The league supplies boys with skates when they start, but as the boy's interest progresses his own skates will be of utmost importance in helping him improve quickly. The league meets for practice every Saturday morning at Walnut Creek Ice Rink from 7:30 until 9:30. Hot chocolate and snails or doughnuts are available to them after practice. Game schedules will be announced later.

MacDonald was born in Canada and is a former University of California hockey player. He has been teaching skating and hockey for the past seven years. He, and his wife Helen, live with their three small children in Walnut Creek. His assistant coaches will be a group of young men who were among the original membership of the Junior Hockey League, and who are well acquainted with MacDonald's teaching methods.

Membership dues are nominal. The league furnishes the teams with uniforms and other equipment. The organization endeavors to be completely self supporting. However, occasionally there is a boy who would benefit by membership in such an organization who finds it a financial impossibility, or perhaps there is additional equipment needed for the added safety of the boys.

TO HELP MEET the expense of contingencies of this or any similar nature the league would more than appreciate the interest of civic groups in Contra Costa County, whose concern is for the welfare of youth.

Anyone interested in becoming a sponsor may contact Harold Frazier, Len Bonnington, or George Giddings.

Links Low Gross Looks Like Pitt In JV Champ Slot

The Pittsburg Pirates practically wrapped up the Junior Varsity League grid title last Friday night when they fought their way to a close 26-20 win over the little Devils of Diablo.

The Acalanes Babes suffered a 20-6 setback at the hands of a speedy and scrappy Pacifica eleven that played heads up ball and took advantage of the breaks to notch a 20-6.

Las Lomas and Antioch wound up in a scoreless tie when neither could hit pay dirt.

In the circuit's other JV contest Miramonte toppled 7-0 with the Pleasant Hill Rams racking up a 7-0 score.

Maxon's Ties For 1st Spot

Jack Maxon's Texaco took two games from Taylor's Flying 'A' bowling team to move into a first place tie with Holbrook Signal Station, who dropped three to Sangs House of Miracles.

Taylor's Flying 'A' and Sangs House of Miracles emerged joint holders of second place.

Other scores: Team No. 5-2, Golden State—1; Cork and Bottle Liquors—2, Estates Cleaners—1; Park & Shop Cleaners—2, Fred's Hardware—1.

Mary Jamison of Taylor's Flying 'A' took high scoring honors with 504 series, high game 220. This established a new high game for the league.

Don's Frosh Nab Mythical Title

The Acalanes Frosh finished their season last week when they toppled Las Lomas 20-13 and nabbed the mythical frosh championship.

In earlier games they defeated Las Lomas and Miramonte and dropped a 7-6 loss to Miramonte.

Miramonte was second in the standings with two wins, a loss and a tie. Las Lomas lost four.

Diamond K Grid Has 60 Entries But No Winners

Although there were 60 entries (plus five which were postmarked too late for consideration), there were no winners in the Diamond K Supply Football Contest last week.

Closest to winning were the following four, each of whom picked 17 correct, from the list of 20 collegiate and professional football games of last weekend: G. L. McDonald, 18 Loma Linda, Orinda; D. M. Snow, 108 Fiesta Court, Orinda; D. Schneider, 3323 Walnut Lane, Lafayette, and J. M. Sivesund, 3406 Moraga Boulevard, Lafayette.

In the weekly contest, 20 correct picks result in a prize of $25 in merchandise orders at Diamond K Supply, 3671 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette; 19 correct picks win a prize of $15 in merchandise orders; 18 correct picks mean $5 in merchandise orders.

Entries must be received at Diamond K Supply before 11 a.m. Saturday or must be postmarked before that time.

For complete rules, see the Diamond K Supply advertisement in this issue.

Catering Girls Lead Keg Loop

The Monument Catering team remained in the lead by six points in the Tuesday Night Women's Handicap League at the Monument Bowl after dropping the Yellow Cab girls with their star bowler, Lois Bowles, capturing the high series with her 480 total.

Jenny Bates of Stone's Men's Wear turned in a 191 score for high game; her team also started with a four point win over Martin Brothers. Kay's Coffee Shop is now in sole possession of the second place slot after winning three from Farr's TV.

Union Ice Delivery also took there from their opponents, Woodside Builders, and are tied for third place trailing Kay's by only one point.

Viks Upset Vallejo, 18-13; Season-Ender is Today

Eas Contra Costa Junior pulled the cat out of the bag, Saturday, when the Vikings trounced the Vallejo Falcons 18-13 in a fourth quarter thriller at Corbus Field, Vallejo.

A fourth-quarter pass interception by end Ted Plumb, who rambled 39-yards to pay dirt, provided the winning score for the victorious Vickings.

Neither side managed to score in the first half. In the third period the Falcons broke loose to score the first TD on a 42-yard run by halfback Lee Cooke.

Coach Jack Danilevich's crew trailed through the third quarter woke up in the fourth to kick loose for three touchdowns, but failing to make good their conversions.

Quarterback Charlie Verduzce scored twice for East Contra Costa, the first with an 11-yard run on a rollout. He went over center from one-yard out for the second tally, to put the Vikings out front 12-6. Ted Plumb's interception shortly after gave the Vikings their 18-6 bulge.

Cooke's second touchdown for the Falcons came in the final minutes of the fourth quarter. He scored on a 26-yard pass from Vallejo quarterback Don Wouda, and Vallejo end D. L. Hurd booted the extra point.

With a two-two conference record, the Vikings will close out their season against Menlo Junior College on the latter's turf.

Scheduled to start for the Vikings will be Cliff Hayden, LE; Laird Eichmeyer, LT; Jerry Henderson, LG; Dan Owens, C; George Airoldi, RG; Frank Malynn, LT; Ted Plumb, RE; Charlie Verduzce, QB; Paul Johnson, LH; Jim McMillin, RH, and Dale Sandy, FB.

Season captains for the squad, elected by the team, are Airoldi and McMillin.

Traditionals Set For Tonight as Season Closes

The games tonight ring down the curtain on the 1957 football prep league and while the Pittsburg Pirates, to the surprise of no one, wound up as the champs, interest is especially keen as natural rivals tangle in tonight's play.

Pacifica's draws the bye but is scheduled to meet Castlemont High of Oakland in an afternoon affair at Pacifica. It'll be interesting since Castlemont nabbed the Oakland League championship. It looks to be too much for Pacifica so Castlemont 20-Pacifica 6. Any better than that and it will be a moral victory for Pacifica.

The Dons of Acalanes are reported to be at full strength and still stinging from last week's upset by the Spartans.

The Las Lomas Knights and the Dons seem evenly matched with the edge going to the Knights who have made it a habit of losing only to Pittsburg.

Looks like the score will be Las Lomas 14-Acalanes 13.

Pittsburg plays Antioch and the way they have been rolling Antioch is in for a rough night. A huge crowd will see Pitt run 32--6.

Diablo vies with Pleasant Hill at Concord. Pleasant Hill is hungry and has turned into a powerhouse. They want this one and somehow we'd like to see them take a win. Pleasant Hill 21-Diablo 7.

Miramonte plays Pacifica in a JV clash. Its Pacifica 13-7.

Off The Cuff

Dear Better Dressers:

For the impeccable dresser, (that's you), I have an absolutely gasser of a gag rag for your glad pile of threads.

Free translation of the above (no charge), means that I have the newest thing in custom cravats; hand rolled, imported silk ties that you can have your name, hobby, avocation or whatever placed thereupon at no extra cost.

If you happen to be a sanitary engineer, for instance, a manhole cover would go nicely. If your hobby is girls, you could have "Agnes" threaded there. If her name is Mabel, this is not the smartest thing you could do.

These beautiful cravats are a must, at $7.50 per each. While you are buying seven dozen, peer closely at the terry-cloth lined kimonos. They are designed to drive women mad. These come in one size (the kimonos), and fit every type of build. You furnish the shoulders. Beautiful colors and motifs.

Someone will wait on you immediately. Probably me,

Mort.

Scattergunners Await Dawn For '57 Pheasant Hunting

With prospects as good or better than last year, which produced a record bag, the 1957 pheasant season will open tomorrow for a 16-day run throughout most of the state.

Bag and possession limit in most of the state is 10 male pheasants or nine male and one female pheasants per season. Daily bag limit, within the seasonal limitation, is two birds per day tomorrow and Sunday and four birds per day from November 18 to December 1.

Bag and possession limit is 10 pheasants of either sex per season in the counties of Imperial, Inyo, Kern, Los Angeles, Mono, Monterey, Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino, San Diego, San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara and Ventura. Daily bag limit: 2 per day. Pheasant Co-Op Hunting Areas in these counties will be operated on the first 10 days of the season only, November 16-25, inclusive.

Shooting hours are from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. except in San Luis Obispo, Mono, Inyo and all counties south of these where shooting hours are one-half hour befre sunrise to one-half hour after sunset. (Southern California C-oOp areas will shoot between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Last year the annual Game Take Hunter Questionnaire reported a total of 744,400 pheasants taken by hunters.

Counts made this year in the Sacramento Valley, in or near the rice belt, which is the most important pheasant area of the state, showed overall increases in all factors of pheasant reproduction—number of hens, percentage of hens with broods, and size of broods.

The overall picture for the Sacramento Valley is spotty. Pheasants are reported in abundance in most good habitat in the northeast section of the rice belt, east of the Sacramento River and from Sutter Basin northward through Sutter and Butte Counties. Pheasant number appear to be somewhat lower in the Natomas district, but population was still at a relatively high level in that area a month ago and should furnish good hunting.

While the western and southern sections of the Sacramento Valley also show general increases in pheasants, numbers in these sections appear to be lower than east of the Sacramento River.

In the delta area there appears to be no significant change from last year in pheasant numbers. Counts on Staten and Tyler Islands show a significant gain, but the Grizzly Island Waterfowl Management Area shows a decrease in pheasant production.

In the San Joaquin Valley counts showed considerable increases in the northeastern section near Oakdale and Escalon. In the floor of the valley, from Los Banos to Mendota, production of young birds was down somewhat from last year at the time the counts were made, but late-hatched birds may help to offset the apparent decline.

The Department of Fish and Game reminded hunters that pheasant tags are on sale at all license dealers throughout the state.

The best way to avoid long lines is to get your tags early, the Department suggested and pointed out that if you get them near your home you will be sure to have them. Some hunters gamble on being able to buy their tags in the hunting area, but they run the risk of missing a license dealer (who also likes to hunt) or catching one who has just sold out.

Pheasant tags cost $2 this year.

Ski Club Will Show Fashions, Film, Tonight

The Mt. Diablo Ski Club will hold its fourth annual ski show tonight at 8 in the multi-purpose room of the Clayton Valley, Concord. Admission is free.

The show will include the latest fashions in ski clothes. Models are Glen and Helen Dillon, Helen Germain, Virginia Vipperman, Gina Reed and Chuck Hammond all of Concord and Joan and Donna Girot of Pittsburg.

Ann Boero of Walnut Creek will model ski fashions for the younger set.

A ski movie is also planned and refreshments will be served. Ski equipment will be on display. Ed Kamlan of Concord is in charge of the show. Chuck Hammond is president.

Monument Men Swing into High Gear at Kegling

Men's bowling at the Monument Bowl stepped up into high gear this past week as four leagues entered the ninth week of play. Here's what's happening at Monument.

MT. DIABLO 750 HANDICAP LEAGUE

Dick's Shell Service took four points from Tunnel Motors to retain first place lead and to knock them out of first place and into third. Ace Awning retained second place by taking four points from their opponents, Tiny's Hut.

Jesse Peeble of California Pallet Co. shot the high game and high series of the night with games of 199, 203, 143 for a 545.

MONUMENT MAJOR LEAGUE

Vic Jones Roofing took two games from Paddock Bowl to retain their lead for first place. Fitzpatrick Chevrolet retained second place by also taking no games from their opponent, Mel's Men Shop.

Phil Slater shot a 603 series for Paddock Bowl with games of 191, 190, 222.

Aldo Regetti of Mels Men Shop shot the high game and high series of the night with games of 201, 225, 214 for a 640.

MONUMENT KINGPINS LEAGUE E

El Charro retained its hold on first place by taking two games from M. F. Greif. Concord Greyhound retained second place by taking three games from Tiny's Hut. Four Corners Liquors are in third place.

Arch Madsen of Four Corners Liquors shot the high game and high series of the night with games of 169, 147, 220 for a 536.

AUTO DEALERS 775 SCRATCH LEEAGUE

Gring Pest Control took three points from Crenna Tires to retain its hold on first place. Kaiser Foundation Hospial took only two points from Me. T Diablo Silents and dropped to second place. Wilson & Meek took two points from C.B.S. to retain third place.

Wid Hoskins of Gring Pest Control shot the high game of the night, 225.

Jim Gibson of Wakeman Concrete shot the high series of the night with games of 214, 178, 167 for a 559.

Little Rams Bump Miramonte JV 7-0

By DIXON FARMER

Last Friday the Pleasant Hill J.V. team invaded Miramonte and walked off with a hard fought 7-0 win.

Aside from losing their third game of their almost-over season, the Matadors lost the services of their outstanding quarterback, Floyd Blaney, via a bad ankle.

The first and second Ram drives resulted in near touchdowns. Both times heads up ball by the Matador interior line saved the scores. Mike Wilmar was instrumental at his defensive tackle slot, recovering both Ram fumbles.

Penalties also played a big part in the ball game. Time and again as the Matadors seemed to have pulled themselves out of a hole, they were pushed back by obvious infractions.

In the third quarter, with his back to the goal line, Bruce Hancock punted to his 40. Here it was taken by fullback Ben Foulk, who shook off tackler after tackler until he reached the 13.

Three plays later this same fullback ran the ball over from the two for the only tally of the game. Foulks' off tackle slant was good for the conversion. The score remained at 7-0 until the final gun, despite the aerial efforts of the reserve quarterback, Al Geisler.

Today's encounter finds Miramonte at Pacifica.

Don Thinclads Set for Stanford

The Acalanes cross country track team moves to the North Coast preliminaries at Stanford University today and if the team can perform up to ability it looks like a good day for the Don Thinclads, said Coach Eaton.

Acalanes topped a field of 11 teams in the ACAL-DVAL cross country last week at DeAnza High School. Top point men for the Dons were Leo Macfarlane, Dennis Brady, Dave Carlson, Dave Kennedy and Dick Hayman.

"Team spirit and attitude is largely the reason for the success of the track squad," said Eaton.

Inland Deer Shot Looks Good Says Fish, Game Dept.

Running slightly ahead of the average of the last five years, the deer tag count as of the fourth day after the close of the 1957 Inland Deer Season showed a total of 38,891 deer taken.

This compares with 37,963, the average for the years 1952 through 1956. The count is 1485 behind last year's which showed 40,376 deer bagged at this time.

Leading counties are: Siskiyou 3607; Modoc, 3566; Lassen, 3006 Tehama, 2771, and Shasta, 2735 All are ahead of the five-year average and Tehama leads both the five-year average and last year's count up to this time.

Bowmen Hold Big Shoot; Eat Venison

Bill Kefauver of Lafayette won the Class A competition in the Diablo Bowmen shoot held in Martinez on Sunday. His score was 220.

Chuck Dixon of Pleasant Hill Tied with another bowman for the Birdie 20 pins. Frank Buchanan of Lafayette provide the venison stew feed. Buchanan is the only club member to claim a deer with a bow and arrow this year.

Pirates Carve Diablo High 25-0

In a surprisingly easy win the Pittsburg Pirates showed the Diablo Devils who was boss last Friday night when they walked off with a 25-0 win.

The Pirates ace halfback Vince Darone put on a one man scoring show to rack up 19 points in the first half and that pretty well settled the issue as the Diablo eleven did little in the way of moving the ball.

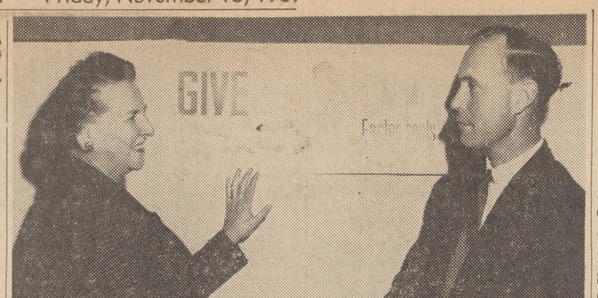
Loan Companies Sponsor Youth Award Program

Berkeley Savings and Loan and First Savings and Loan, Walnut Creek, today joined in the statewide inauguration of the Outstanding Student Award program sponsored by California's savings and loan business to give recognition to an outstanding senior in approximately 300 of the state's public high schools.

The annual cash awards will be made during the spring of 1958 to an outstanding graduate of each high school, including Las Lomas, Pleasant Hill, and Acalanes.

The purpose is to offer financial inducements to encourage students to achieve high scholastic standings and to participate in extracurricular activities which help develop leadership, a spokesman said.



MRS. G. W. LUHR of Walnut Creek, newly elected president of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Contra Costa County, confers with Dr. Charles L. Dimmler, Jr. of Oakland, president of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Alameda County concerning inter-county coordination of services for the physically handicapped.

John Ganong Is Red Cross Chairman

John Ganong, Walnut Creek attorney, has been appionted chairman of the 1958 American Red Cross Campaign, according to Red Cross President E. C. Counter Jr.

The campaign will be held in March. Ganong is seeking volunteers.

Ganong was born in Portland, Ore., and has been a California resident since 1919. He and his wife, Marie, live at 180 Elena Drive, Walnut Creek. They have a son, Pat, 13, and a daughter, Victoria, 6.

He took his bachelor of arts degree and bachelor of laws degree at Washington and Lee University.

He served as a trail attorney in the Claims Division of the Department of Justice, Washington, D.C.

Ganong served from 1942 to 1946 in the U.S. Navy, as a patrol torpedo boat commander and later as an instructor at several Navy schools.

For five years until 1955, he was a law specialist and legal officer at the U.S. Naval Station, Treasure Island. He retired from the Navy in 1955 with the rank of lieutenant commander.

WINTER BLOOMS

There are many winter blooming plants that will bring color into drab winter gardens if planted right now. Among shrubs, the heather is one of the most attractive and it is available in many species with needle or scale-like foliage and soft purple blooms. Another is he Pyracantha, whose species and varieties bear gaily colored berries throughout the long winter. See some of these shrubs at your nurseryman's now.

'12 Angry Men' To Be Presented At St. Mary's

Major roles in "Twelve Angry Men," to be presented at St. Mary's College by the college drama society next Thursday and Friday and on Saturday, November 23, have gone to Darryl Gunther, Terry Breen, Paul Ford, Ana and Dennis Kelly.

They will play jurors, numbers 8, 3, 4 and 10, respectively, in the absorbing story of what happens in a jury room after all the evidence is in ,and 12 men, with sharply contrasting personalities and prejudices, must decide "beyond a reasonable doubt" the guilt or innocence of a boy accused of murdering his father.

The play is under the direction of Brother V. Matthew F. S. C., who has previously produced "Rope," Boy with a Cart" by Christopher Fry and "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial" with the drama group.

Curtain time will be 8:15 p.m. in the LeFevre Memorial Theater on campus.

Art Display To Be Sunday

An art exhibit will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday at the Dance Center, 3420 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, under the sponsorship of Alma Mendell, operator of the center.

"The public is invited to attend the exhibit," Mrs. Mendell said.

There will be a showing of water colors by James Kissel, handpainted textiles by Barbara Connell of Lafayette, hand-painted china by Hazel Joyslen and archeological jewelry, heirloom pieces from Germany and other objects collected and presented by Robert Kalklosh.

Easter Seal Board Will Meet Monday

The Board of Directors of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Contra Costa County will hold its bimonthly meeting at the Easter Seal Building, 240 South Sixth Street, Richmond, Monday at 7:45

Mrs. G. W. Luhr, newly elected President, will preside, and will present committee appointments for the approval of the board of directors.

The Board will also consider two amendments to the By-laws recommended by the Executive Committee. Mrs. T. N. Fox, chairman of the Finance and Budget Committee, will present the proposed budget for the new fiscal year.

Christian Science

The scientific basis of immortality will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Christian Science churches in this area are located at 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda and 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek. The Christian Science Society of Pleasant Hill meets at tthe Hillcrest Congregational Church on Gregory Lane.

Scriptural selections to be read from the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Mortals and Immortals" include the following (Proverbs 12:28): "In the way of righteousness is life; and in the pathway thereof there is no death."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be used the following (267:3-5): "The offspring of God start not from matter or ephemeral dust. They are in and of Spirit, divine Mind, and so forever continue."

The Golden Text is from II Corinthians (5:17) "If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new."

County Awards Schools Supply Master Contracts

The Contra Costa County Board of Education has adopted the 1957-59 Standard Supply list.

County Superintendant B. O. Wilson, the board's ex-officio secretary, said the list represents a series of "master" contracts awarded for about $250,000.

They replace individual contracts between school districts and supplies, thus achieving volume buying. Actual purchasing is performed by County Purchasing Agent Charles Hornback.

The board of education adopted the list November 6 after hearing reports by Hornback and Principal James Scott of Knightsen School, chairman of the county Standard Supply List Committee.

Their report stated that a new system of purchasing introduced two years ago has proved itself successful by cutting down paper work in ordering about 80 percent, coordinating school purchasing at both county and district levels, improving district inventory practices, and encouraging educational planning in terms of supplies and equipment.

The new system was established under the supervision of Dr. Floyd Marchus, director of research, Contra Costa County schools, on the basis of recommendations by committees of school administrators.

Area Women See Fashions

Several area women attended a recent fashion show held at the Hotel Claremont, Berkeley. The Mobilized Women of Berkeley were honored.

The local women were Mesdames T. E. Carroll, Forrest Bryant, George Young and Howard Hoyt of Orinda; Mesdames W. F. Ward, F. E. Jones, O. W. Parker and H. A. Jones of Walnut Creek; Mrs. Lowell Dygert of Lafayette and Mrs. J. K. Chapman of Alamo.

Lutheran Ladies Meet Tuesday

The Quarterly Meeting of the Lutheran Welfare Women's Auxiliary of the East Bay will be held in the Shapherd of the Valley Lutheran Church, 294 Orchard Road, Orinda, Tuesday at 1:30 p.m.

Rev. Albert Hidy, Pastor of the Host Church, will conduct the Devotional Period. Mrs. A. E. Syverud, Orinda, president of the auxiliary will conduct the business meeting. The Host Church will present a playlet entitled "Excuse Me". This concerns the many excuses given when people are asked to perform a given task.

This meeting will be the Thanksgiving gathering. Members and friends will be bringing small gifts suitable for Lay Visitors to give to older people in Rest Homes during their visits at the Christmas Season. Another project of the group is a paper drive. The papers are rolled in bundles for delivery to the Lutheran Welfare Office, 1749 Grove Street, Berkeley.

All women from National Lutheran Council churches and friends are cordially invited to attend.
